

THE GETTYSBURG TIMES.

Office open Saturday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30, northwest corner of Center Square.

VOL. VIII No 37

GETTYSBURG FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3 1906

PRICE TWO CENTS

You Wouldn't Buy These Hats

If they were Yellow, but as they are BROWN DERBIES in up-to-date shapes and styles, we may be able to interest you at these prices.

$3.00 Hats at $1.98

$2.50 " " $1.48

All sizes. They are in the window. Come inside you can see them better.

Eckert's Store,
"On the square"

At The Walter Theatre

FAITHFUL WIFE

A story of a husband leaving home, a wreck of the vessel on which he sails. He is rescued from a floating raft. He finds his way home, sees his wife and child arranging flowers on the grave that has been made to his memory. He falls across it and the child runs for her mother who returns. There is a happy reunion of the family.

BABY'S REVENGE
BLIND PILGRIM

Comedy
Drama

Illustrated Song—Honor Bright I Loves Yer Right Old Pal

Welcome Teachers of Adams County

We have a special price on Candy this week for Teachers. Boyd's after dinner Mints, fresh and creamy, only 10c. per lb. You can't buy better candies than we sell at same prices. We have them from 10 to 40c per pound.

Don't forget to see our Grand Display of Holiday Goods, on our Second Floor.

H. J. Heinz Co., will give a Free Demonstration at our Store this week. Everybody Welcome. Souvenirs given away. Come often.

GETTYSBURG DEPARTMENT STORE

WIZARD THEATRE

FROM CABIN BOY TO KING

A story of the South Sea, and something away from the usual run of subjects and a decidedly successful attainment. Fascinatingly told with just the proper dash of extravagance to give an added charm to the narrative. The ship pictures are taken abroad an actual ship.

THE CATTLE THIEVES

A marvelous production, introducing for the first time to the American public the heroes of the Northwest Mounted Police, conceded to be the most wonderful organization of trained men in the world.

ILLUSTRATED SONG

Doors open at 6:30 o'clock.

It is no proof of greatness to ignore the importance of dress

It is proof of good, sound common sense to insist upon absolute correctness in Style, Fit and Quality. You'll find clothes, satisfaction to the smallest detail, if you get your clothing made here.

J. D. LIPPY, Tailor.

Pay All Your Bills By Check

In this way you will be able to know, to the penny, the exact amount of the cost of your living, and always have the best kind of a receipt in the returned and endorsed check. We will extend to you every facility.

The Citizens' Trst Co. of Gettysburg.

LAST SESSION OF INSTITUTE

Adams County Teachers Listen to Able Addresses by Institute Instructors. Evening Entertainments Enjoyed.

At Thursday afternoon's session of the Teachers' Institute Deputy Superintendent Teitrick spoke on "My Boy's Teacher." Mr. Teitrick again called attention to the necessity of high ideals in the teacher and the necessity of paying attention to the pupils individually. He said that he would not allow a son of his to attend school where the teacher's disposition was anything but sunny.

The other two addresses of the afternoon were by Superintendent Coughlin whose subject was "Mistakes in Teaching" and Dr. Miller who made an address on "Napoleon—the Man of Destiny." The attendance was so large that it was necessary to hold an overflow meeting in the Court House where the same addresses were delivered.

In the evening a distinctly high class entertainment was given by the Vassar Girls. The concert, which was almost entirely instrumental, was one of the best Gettysburg has had in recent years and a large audience was delighted. The young ladies were all artists and showed the result of the most careful training.

FRIDAY

The final session was held this morning. Rev. Stanley Billheimer, of York Springs, conducting the devotional exercises.

The memorial committee submitted a memorial on the death of Miss Ida E. Sheads which was adopted.

The reading course committee recommended "History of Education" and Dutton's "School Management" continued from last year and "Teaching a District School" by Densmore added.

The auditing committee reported having found correct Superintendent Roth's account of the 1908 Institute. The report showed a deficit of $48.03.

The committee on resolutions submitted the customary resolutions expressing gratitude to all who had assisted in making the week a success. Two recommendations were made, namely that school libraries and commercial museums be secured for the various schools as they may be had for the asking and second that some form of study be added to the curriculum "that will sensibly and practically lead to the science of agriculture."

President S. Gring Hefelbower, of Gettysburg College, gave the first address of the morning on "The Personality a Teacher should Acquire." He emphasized the fact that a teacher to help a child must be not only an educated man but a religious and moral man.

An address by Dr. Miller and a short talk by Prof. Gibson who had charge of the music closed the Institute of 1909.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dearly beloved mother, Cinderella Manahan, who departed this life one year ago Dec. 5th, 1908.

One year ago there passed away

A mother true and kind;

We miss her much, yet it is well

Because her God wished so.

A mother dear, a mother kind,

Has gone and left us here behind,

We'll cease to weep for tears are vain

And hope to meet our mother again.

Not long ago she filled her place

And sat with us to talk

But she has run her mortal race

And never can return,

Fortear, dear children, to mourn and weep.

Whilst sweetly in the dust I sleep,

And when you come my grave to see,

Prepare yourself to follow me.

Farewell, farewell, our mother dear,

Many a step have we taken here

To meet thy smiling face so dear,

And were always welcome at the door.

By her son and daughter, Ernest and Ada.

BUSHMAN GETS HOTEL

Harry E. Nace, of Pleasant Hill, owner of the Hampton hotel, has sold the hostelry and fixtures, to S. V. Bushman. The new proprietor will take charge after the transfer of the license, application for which has been made to the court of Adams County.

RURAL PEOPLE SHOPPING EARLY

County People Taking Merchants' Advice and are Shopping Early. Stores Stocked with Big Assortment of Christmas Goods.

Adams County people are taking advantage of the frequently repeated advice to do their Christmas shopping early and every day sees large numbers of the rural folk in town making their holiday purchases. Large numbers of vehicles may be seen on the square at all hours while the livery patronized by country people have good business.

The town people are usually slow to accept the advice to shop early and as a result few purchases have been made by Gettysburg people in preparation for Christmas.

The merchants frequently point out the advantages of the "shop early" plan. In the first place the early buyer gets the pick of the goods before others have taken the best and most desirable articles. In the second place they are assured of more prompt attention from clerks who are not rushed and in the third place they are aiding materially the merchants of the town to distribute the trade over the few weeks preceding Christmas so that all will not be rushed during the last few days before the annual festival.

Gettysburg's business men this year have laid in a better line of holiday goods than ever before and town and county shoppers will have a big display from which to make their purchases. There is no need whatever to consider buying from city stores when local business houses have such large and varied stocks and the people are rapidly realizing that as good satisfaction can be obtained at home as anywhere.

Store windows are taking on the usual holiday aspect and many attractive displays have been prepared both in the windows and inside the stores. The Christmas season is also making itself felt in the many advertisements of town and county merchants appearing in these columns from which many valuable suggestions can be gleaned.

PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Adams near Cedar Ridge on Tuesday evening, in honor of Mrs. Adams. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Adams, and daughter, Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hawn, and Casper Myers and daughter, Gertrude, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kuhn and son, Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. David Weaver, and three children, Earl, George and Bernetta, Cora Chambers, Beulah Fink, Mary Chambers, Celia Noel, Carrie Hemler, Bertha Gephart, Theresa Gephart, Celia Smith, Sallie Bupp, Jennie Gephart, Katie Wagner, Katie Heltzel, Katie Gephart, Rosie Weaver, Viola Hawn, Edna Weaver, Corinne Fink, Edna Hemler, Mabel Chambers, Eva Weaver, Anna Heltzel, Charles Weaver, Joseph Topper, Roy Bollinger, Charles Small, Leo Noel, August Noel, Paul Weaver, Bernard Partridge, Harvey Noel, Harry Wagaman, George Slusser, Emory Noel, John Weaver, Albert Noel.

Dancing was the feature of the evening. Music was furnished by Curvin Heltzel and John I. Weaver. Refreshments were served at a late hour and all returned home well pleased with the evening they had spent.

WELL FOR FIRE

D. C. Flohr, Blue Ridge Summit, is digging a well on his property at Blue Ridge Summit. He intends it principally for fire protection for his lumber yard. He will keep large tanks filled with water for immediate use and has a steam engine with which he can pump out a big stream of water in case of fire. Mr. Flohr's is one of the very few wells at the Summit, most all the residents using water from Dr. Reach's system.

FOR SALE—One mule colt 7 months old. A fine litter of sucking pigs 6 weeks old. Orville Ditzler, R. D. 12, Gettysburg.

FOR SALE—2 houses, Nos. 218 and 215 West Middle street. Inquire of Mr. George Reichle.

SAYS THIS IS BIG SHOW TOWN

Gettysburg Said to Turn out More People to Shows and Entertainments than Other Town its Size in the State.

Attention has been called the past few weeks to the amusement spirit which has manifested itself in Gettysburg. A man who has watched up things along this line said:

"There are few towns the size of Gettysburg which could stand the pace which this town does. The first four nights of this week Xavier Hall was filled for the evening. Its attractions, many of the patrons being town people. Wednesday night the Walter Theatre was well filled with a large audience for Lyman Howe's pictures making about a thousand people seeking amusement in town on one night, this in addition to the patrons of the Wizard Theatre.

"Saturday night The Show Girl is booked for Walter's Theatre and promises to draw a big crowd. The same evening the College Singing Girls appear in Brua Chapel and will have the customary large audience there, making seven entertainments in the town in one week and all of them well patronized.

"A few weeks ago a stock company played to good houses for six evenings and a matinee and still the people wanted more. Almost every show which has had any merit whatever has drawn good crowds on its appearance in Gettysburg and the place is proving itself one of the best show towns for its size in the state. It is safe for any play or company with an established reputation to come here and many without established reputations, for they can be practically sure of a good house."

PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sowers, of New Chester, Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Sowers. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sowers, Mr. and Mrs. James Milhimes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zepp, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Pottorf, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Swope, Misses Annie Wampler, Beulah Sowers, Georgia Pottorf, Esther Zepp, Carrie Bell Sowers, Sadie Milhimes, Zora Pottorf, Hannah Milhimes, Viola Milhimes, Pearl Milhimes, Rosa Himes, Laura Himes, Messrs. Luther Hoff, Russell Hoff, David Webb, Charles Dundore, John Pottorf, Meriville Dundore, Charles Swope, Raymond Sowers, Herbert Zepp, John Winand, Pius Horridle, Oliver Swope, George Milhimes, George Himes, Robert Trimmer, Jesse Himes, Ross Witter, Samuel Kemper, Mervin Cassatt, Emory Cassatt, Clair Freed, John Yohe, Luther Yohe.

THE CLIMAX

What is promised as the real theatrical treat of the season is the forthcoming engagement of Joseph M. Weber's charming melody drama "The Climax," by Edward Locke, with incidental music by Joseph Carl Breill, which is announced at the Walter Theatre, Wednesday, December 8. "The Climax" is said to be one of the greatest plays of the century, abounding with delicious humor, absorbing romance and exquisite melodies which are entwined throughout the plot. There are only four characters in the play and the scenes are laid in New York City. The story is that of a young girl who is aspiring for an operatic career.

WILL PREACH TO SECRET ORDERS

Rev. Joseph B. Baker will deliver a sermon to Battlefield Council No. 717, Order of Independent Americans, in St. James' Lutheran church on Sunday evening, December 5th. Members will meet at the room at 6:30. The members of Washington Camp No. 414, Patriotic Order Sons of America, will also attend and will meet at the time and place above stated.

NOTICE—All members of W. C. No. 414 P. O. S. of A., are requested to meet on Sunday evening in the O. of I. A. Hall at 6:30 p. m., for the purpose of attending services in St. James Lutheran Church. Gervus W. Myers' Rec. Sec.

FOUND: set of false teeth. Whereabouts can be learned at Times office.

SHORT PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Brief Paragraphs Telling the News of the Town and County and of Some Places Nearby. Short Items for Quick Reading.

Miss Edith Sheads, of East Middle street, is visiting friends at Orrtanna. Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Hill, of Littlestown, were Gettysburg visitors on Thursday evening.

Rev. Stanley Billheimer, of York Springs, was a visitor the past few days at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Billheimer on Springs avenue.

Paul R. Sieber has been elected a member of the scientific society at Johns Hopkins University. The election is quite a distinction as the society in question is very exclusive.

Miss Grace Martz has returned to Cashtown after a visit at the home of Levi Bushman in this place.

Miss Stella Raffensperger entertained a few friends at her home on East Middle street Thursday evening.

L. M. Alleman, of Littlestown, was a Gettysburg visitor on Thursday.

Miss Elizabeth Gitt has returned to her home in Hanover after a week's visit at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. Allen Dickson on Chambersburg street.

Mrs. Joseph Smith is ill at her home on Steinwehr avenue.

Miss Annie Hugs has left for an extended visit with friends in Philadelphia.

CHURCH NOTICES

METHODIST

Preaching at 10:30 Sunday morning, subject, "The Growth of Methodism;" Sunday School 1:30 p. m.; Epworth League 6:15. A cordial invitation to all services. L. Dow Ott, pastor.

SALEM U. B.

Sabbath School, 9:00 a. m.; preaching, 10:00 a. m.; subject, "Worship." Prayer meeting on Thursday evening 7:15.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Sunday School 9:30 a. m.; preaching 10:30 and 7 p. m., by Rev. B. F. Lightner.

MANY FARMS OFFERED

Over 600 orchards have been offered to State Zoologist H. A. Surface for use as demonstration orchards and it is expected that the first list designating orchards will be issued within a very short time. It will include orchards selected for public demonstrations of methods of killing scale and pruning in the vicinity of Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Williamsport and other cities. Later on lists of orchards in smaller communities will be announced and then it is expected to make up lists for the country. The only two counties which have not offered orchards are Warren and Cameron.

The orchards will be located fifteen miles apart, each one being inspected regularly by state inspectors and used as places for demonstrations and lectures.

PARTY

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Emory Bishop on route 3, in honor of Mr. Bishop's 32nd birthday. The evening was spent in dancing. At a late hour refreshments were served. All returned to their home expressing themselves well pleased. Those present were: Mrs. Sallie Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bishop, Joseph McKinney, John McCleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Luckenbaugh and son, Harry, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bishop, and daughter, Lillian, Misses Mary Glass, Mary Bishop, Messrs. Ernest Plank, Clarence, Roy and Maurice Bollinger, Guy and Allen Plank and William Glass. Music was rendered by William Shindedecker.

STATION

A regulation station, or waiting booth, was placed Thursday afternoon at Lawver's crossing along the Hanover and Littlestown Street Railway. This stopping place is the second one outside of the borough limits of Littlestown.

WANTED

Fat horses and mules, 3 to 10 years old at the Globe Hotel. J. B. Fuhrman and Co.

FOUND—Bunch of keys. Owner can have same by calling at Times office and paying for this ad.

The apple crop of America—United States and Canada—is placed at 35,000,000 barrels, which is 12,000,000 barrels more than that of 1908. It is generally conceded that the crop produced east of the Mississippi river is larger and poorer than last season, while that west is lighter, but of superior quality. Some forecast of apple prices is inferable from the fact that a fellow is paying $4 or better per barrel for runty Ben Davis in November.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

The following unclaimed letters remain in the Gettysburg post office Dec. 3d, 1909.

Mrs. S. Bach, Master Jimmie Bach, Mr. Charles Baker, Mr. W. M. Carlmann, Mr. George L. Carson, Mr. Robert F. Ferguson, Mrs. Alice Grace, Mrs. Bessie Munay, Mr. W. B. Miller, Miss Mary May Warren, Ralph Scott, Mrs. Amanda Swartz, Mr. Jack Sanders, Mr. John Wallas.

Parties calling for the above will please state that they were advertised. Wm. B. McIlhenny, P. M.

Sore Throat or Mouth.

When the mouth or throat is irritated or diseased you have the common ailment of Sore Mouth or Sore Throat. If not quickly cured, you are in danger of contracting more serious or even fatal maladies such as Croup, Quinsy, Tonsillitis or Diphtheria. No other remedy will cure Sore Throat or Sore Mouth so quickly, so surely as TONSILINE because TONSILINE is the one remedy especially made for that purpose.

You'll need TONSILINE one of these days, or some night when the drug store is closed—better have a bottle ready at home when you need it most. 25 and 50 cents. The Tonsiline Co., Canton, Ohio.

AIR THAT KILLS GERMS

Your Money Back if Hy-mei Doesn't Cure Catarrh, Says People's Drug Store.

Don't be stubborn. Don't be prejudiced. There is not a particle of morphine, cocaine, or any injurious or habit-forming drug in Hy-mei.

Give it a trial at People's Drug Store's risk. It is made of eucalyptus and other grand anti-septics. It will chase away the misery of catarrh or any affection of the nose and throat in five minutes.

No stomach dosing—just breathe Hy-mei in, it gets at the catarrh germs and kills them.

Go to People's Drug Store today and ask them for a Hy-mei (pronounced High-o-mei) outfit. It only costs $1.00, and consists of a hard rubber pocket inhaler, which can be carried in your pocket, a bottle of Hy-mei, a medicine dropper, and some directions for use. Extra bottles 50c.

Leading druggists everywhere sell Hy-mei, which is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, cough, cold and sore throat or more money returned.

If you would go to the Eucalyptus forests of inland Australia you would quickly get rid of catarrh. Hy-mei brings the identical air of these forests direct to your home. It is a most wonderful catarrh remedy.

PUBLIC SALE

On Thursday, Dec. 9, 1909.

The undersigned intending to quit farming will sell at public sale on the John B. Beam farm formerly Wm. D. B. Beam farm near Harrisburg road 4 miles north of Gettysburg in Straban township the following personal property 3 head of horses 1 is a black horse, 15 years old a don mule 13 years old both work wherever a good leader and saddle horses and fearless of automobiles, steam or trolley. A bay horse 12 years old, good of side worker and driver, 11 head of cattle consisting of 6 head of milk cows 4 will be fresh in Feb. and March others in Jan. and July 4 heifers, 2 will be fresh in Feb., one heifer 16 months old and one three months old.

At good stock and excellent milkers large full 3 years old, 2 at hogs weighing about two hundred pounds apiece 150 chickens, ducks and geese. Also following farm implements a good Acme wagon and 31 inch tread, a good wagon, road wagon, good street and number one sprayer. Back 1/2 binder in good order. Deering Ideal M. W. good as new, horse rake, double and single corn plow, binder and 19 inch 2nd corn planter in good order, spring to an harrow, roller, Hoadley grained tillage, one 40 Oliver chilled 16 in. hay 11 d. windmill cutting box, hay fork, and rope pulleys, grain cradle, manure boards, wheelbarrow, half bushel wagon jack, fork rakes, shovels, digging on cross-cut saw, m. u. and wedges 4 sets gear.

Single harness, 2 pair good check lines, plow line, single, double and triple trees, chains, chicken brooder and coops. Household and kitchen furniture consisting of 2 ten plate stoves, corner cupboard, churn, washing machine, tubs, meat benches, stand, long meat grinder, meat barrels, milk cans, sweet potato and many other articles. Sale to commence at 11 o'clock when time will be made known by

W. W. BELL.

G. R. Thompson, Auct.
C. C. Dream, Clerk.

Scoffers and Doubters

Why Let Prejudice Bind You to a Life of Torturing Agony.

Be fair to yourself, ye sufferers from Rheumatism. Go to People's Drug Store this very day and get a bottle of Rheuma, the new prescription. Use the entire bottle and if you don't believe it has done you any good, say so to People's Drug Store and you can have your money back.

Isn't that a fair offer? Can you see deceit or red tape about it? What chance do you take? Abslutely none. Then get a bottle of Rheuma today. It's the best prescription for Rheumatism ever written by any specialist. It acts at once on the kidneys, it drives the uric acid from the joints and other lodging places; it pleases you in a day; it makes you hopeful and happy in a few days; it cures you in a few weeks. Don't miss People's Drug Store offer. The price is only 50 cents a bottle and you know People's Drug Store well enough to know that the offer is genuine. Mail orders filled by Rheuma Co., 1000 West Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

Look Here

Did you stop to think that your Winter clothing may need some attention.

I clean, press, repair and dye clothes in such a manner that you think you have a new garment. White vests and gloves also cleaned at

R. H. BUSHMAN
46 Chambersburg St. Gettysburg

Don't forget J. T. Riggeal's hog, cattle and post sale on Dec. 10th.

INDIVIDUAL HOG HOUSE.

An Expert Breeder's Plan For Housing Swine.

A practical breeder says in regard to the housing of swine: The ideal of most men who grow hogs regularly and to the capacity of their farms is a large house that will accommodate all their sows at once. A majority of growers never reach this ideal. Those who do more often than otherwise find out that they have made a mistake in building their ideal. I think that the construction of individual houses will prove very serviceable to the ordinary breeder. This house is 5 1/2 by 6 feet inside, 6 feet high in front and 2 1/2 feet at the back. It is roofed with shingles and is built for the front to be toward the south. There is as little timber used as possible for framing purposes. The sills are cut from 2 by 6 inch stuff, two of them 6 feet long and two 5 feet 2 inches and spiked together so that the frame will be 5 1/2 by 6 feet. Then two 2 by 4 inches are cut 6 feet long for back and front to nail the siding or weather boarding on. In nailing on the siding these two pieces are dropped about two inches from the upper end of the siding. Then when the rafters are cut, four of them they are fitted inside the weather boarding.

The rafters at the end are used for nailers for the weatherboarding. The rafters or nailers are dropped far enough below the ends of the siding so that when the laths are put on they are even with the top of the siding. Then a strip about three inches wide is nailed on the outside of the weather boarding flush up against the ends of the weatherboarding on the sloping sides. Then when the shingles are put on they can be nailed to these strips and extend about half an inch over them. This gives a slight projection over the side or end of the house.

The creep or door for the sow should be cut in the east end as near the southeast corner as possible and should be eighteen inches wide and twenty-six inches high. The large door should be cut in the south side as near the southeast corner as can be.

THE INDIVIDUAL HOG HOUSE.

It should be twenty-one inches wide and at least four feet high. The door should be made to fit tight. For the creep there is no need for a door. In extremely cold weather when necessary a gunny sack can be tacked above the door and allowed to hang down, but not overlapping the bottom or sill. By having these doors close together there is the least possible exposure from wind and cold.

These individual houses are always best with a floor. Inch boards can be cut to fit inside the sills and laid on the ground and a strip nailed across the ends to hold them in place. But little bedding is needed. The house should be cleaned out once a week, and if the weather is extremely cold a lantern or two will make it very comfortable.

New Invention to Weigh Cream.

The Wisconsin hydrostatic cream balance is a new invention just produced at the University of Wisconsin dairy school by members of the agricultural experiment station force, which meets a long recognized need for a simple, inexpensive and accurate device to weigh the cream in the Babcock test bottles. Accurate balances of a delicate construction have been made before, but they are far too expensive for the ordinary farm and dairy uses. There are also cheap scales, but these are inaccurate. The first model of this new balance, the first cheap and accurate instrument of the sort, is on exhibition at the national dairy show as a part of the exhibit of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture.

The hydrostatic balance consists of a brass float specially devised on the lines of a hydrometer to float in a cylinder of water in a vertical position. This supports a small platform, on which are placed a cream bottle and a nine gram weight. Small one-tenth gram weights are added until the float sinks to a line on the spindle supporting the platform. The nine gram weight is then removed, causing the float to rise again. When the cream is poured into the bottle through a pipette in sufficient amount the platform sinks again to the line on the spindle and the cream is weighed accurately to the drop. Although so delicate that a single drop affects the balance, the weighing can be done rapidly.

Dairy Water.

Every dairy farm should be well supplied with pure water. It may come from a well or a cistern, where the country is level, and in hill countries the water may often be brought in gravity pipes from the spring to the house and barn. Iron pipes are cheap, and it is easy to carry the water to any point desired in the house or other place if only you have a good spring on a higher level.

For cooling the milk or butter it is better to have a large cold spring and set the milk products in the water as near the head of the spring as possible, where the water is coldest. For watering the cows and other purposes it should be brought in pipes when possible.

A CHRISTMAS MORNING.

By MOLLIE K. WETHERELL.

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.

"Papa," said Lucy Tisdale, "how much premium do you pay to insure this house and furniture?"

"Why do you ask, Tottie?"

"Well, I have a fancy to turn myself into a fire company. Suppose you drop the insurance and give me the money to spend on fire paraphernalia."

"I'll think about it."

Now, the fond father of this young woman, who, by the way, was a trifle hotheadish, had no idea of dropping his insurance; but, having been racking his brain for a fit Christmas gift for her, he caught on to the idea at once of presenting her with a complete fire outfit. He communicated his plan to "mother," by whom it was met with violent opposition.

"John," she said, "you should be ashamed of yourself. Last Christmas you gave her a horse on which to jump fences and things, the Christmas before a bear to pet and before that a football with which to disgrace herself. I do believe if she asked it you'd give her a lion to tame."

"She'd tame him," replied the husband decisively.

"I should think so after taming you."

"You set her the example, my dear."

"I didn't set her the example of making a man of herself. And now just as I have a reason for her to appear ladylike you encourage her to turn herself into a fireman."

"What's your reason? If it's a real reason it's the first you've been able to give me since we were married."

"It's an excellent one. I have a letter from Julia saying that young Lord Arthur Trevelyan Vane—"

"Can't you remember the rest?"

"He's coming over and will arrive about Christmas time. Julia asks that we try to keep him from being homesick at the time of all others one would wish to be with his own family."

"Turn him over to Tot. He won't have time to be homesick."

"That's just it. I wish her to appear ladylike and refined."

"Nonsense! If you want her to catch him let her do it in her own way."

"She'll never do it in that way in the world."

"Then she won't do it at all."

A few days before Christmas the fire gift was stored in the automobile house when Lucy was away, and the door was locked. This did not prevent her climbing to the roof of the little building and looking down a ventilating chimney. About the same time Lord Arthur Trevelyan Vane Fitz-Mortimer wrote a note on crested paper that he had arrived in America and would do himself the honor to call. Being invited to spend the holidays with the Tisdales at their suburban home, he wrote again that he would be on hand some time during Christmas day and partake of Christmas dinner with them.

After breakfast on Christmas morning Mr. Tisdale said to his daughter: "Come outside with me, Tot. I've got a surprise for you." And, leading her to the automobile house, he showed her what (though she had seen it all before) made her heart leap for joy. There was everything required for the protection of the house and the lives of the family, including a canvas chute in case of their being trapped on the upper stories. There were fire extinguishers, fire ladders, hose in plenty and the "dearest" little steam fire engine about four feet long. Miss Tisdale threw herself into her father's arms and covered his face with kisses.

The next thing was to get it all out and play the house was on fire. "Mother" caught fright at once for fear her lordship would arrive and see what sort of Christmas present her daughter had received. She pleaded that the fire trial might be postponed till a later date. She might as well have tried to stop the horses of a fire brigade after the sounding of an alarm as to deter her daughter.

Half an hour later a scene occurred that will not soon be forgotten in the Tisdale family. The paraphernalia was in the yard. Mr. Tisdale was operating the fire engine, sending a small stream on to the roof of the house. The canvas chute had been fastened between a third story window and the ground. Mrs. Tisdale was looking out of an "L" window where she could see everything. Lucy was nowhere to be seen.

Mrs. Tisdale caught sight of an immediately dressed young man coming up the walk. Her heart sank within her. It was undoubtedly Lord Fitz-Mortimer. At that moment Miss Tisdale appeared at the upper end of the chute, entered it, came down like lightning and, striking the ground, turned two or three somersaults. Her mother fell back in a swoon. Her father picked her up and, assisted by Lord Fitz-Mortimer, supported her into the house. She was not at all injured, but pretended to be so that she might hide her shame at the exposure of her lingerie before the guest.

She had no sooner reappeared than Lord Fitz-Mortimer told her that many of the daughters of prominent men in England had organized fire brigades, and he insisted on trying the chute himself. He made the descent more successfully than Lucy, who further disgraced herself by accidentally—so it was supposed—turning the contents of a fire extinguisher on him, soiling his suit and his silk hat.

Mrs. Tisdale was considerably mollified when Lord Fitz-Mortimer took his leave, not till the end of the holidays, madly in love with her daughter.

GIFTS

The Most Attractive and Appropriate

will be found among our Christmas stock this year. We have given to this selection the work of weeks and the experience of years in the Jewelry business.

Some of the things we offer are—

The latest patterns in table silver as well as the older standard patterns.

Tea sets of new and pleasing designs.

Cut Glass of every description—small and large pieces.

There are some beautiful water pitchers with tumblers to match.

Clocks that are not only ornaments but timekeepers.

Jeweled and plain gold rings.

Handbags in leather and silver mesh

Belt buckles, hat pins, combs and hundreds of smaller pins for every purpose

Nouveau Art work in hand hammered brass and copper

Watches in Gold, Gold filled, Silver, Gunmetal

and Nickel Cases with Chains and Fobs

We desire to ask you particularly to come early which will insure you a larger assortment from which to select.

C. A. BLOCHER,
Centre Square
Jeweler

The Leader in Holiday Goods

H. P. MARK, Arendtsville, Pa.,

Celebrates his 27th Xmas Anniversary on Saturday December 4th with his usual complete line of Christmas goods. Among the Specials this year are:

Rugs of every description.
Pictures We have no competitors in price—for we do our framing in dull seasons.
Toys more and prettier than ever.
Toilet Sets
Clocks
Furniture Here you find everything for the home bed room suits, rockers, dining room suits, desks, etc.

China and Glassware Cut Glass pieces in latest patterns—The only store at which to buy it in North end of County. Dinner, Tea and Toilet Sets
Bric a Brac Vases, Candelabra, Smoking Sets, Statuary and Japanese pieces.
Lamps of every style and description.
Sleds The kind that won't break when you look at them.

Ask for a Trade Ticket with your purchase.

True Religion.

True religion grows more and more anxious to declare that religion is not something foreign to humanity; that it is simply the fullest utterance of human life; that all human life which is not religious falls below itself.—Phillips Brooks.

First Aid to Illiterates.

Uncle Joe Cannon had an amusing experience with a waiter in a Kansas City hotel during his last visit to that city. Being in no mood to select his dinner, he had tossed aside, after a glance, the menu presented to him by his waiter, saying:

"Bring me a good dinner."

Incidentally Uncle Joe slipped the man a big tip in advance.

This repeat proving satisfactory, the speaker pursued the same plan during the remainder of his stay in Kansas City. As he was leaving the servant remarked earnestly as he helped him on with his overcoat:

"I beg your pardon, sir, but when you or any of your friends that can't read come to Kansas City just ask for Tom."

AN INVITATION

You are invited to visit our store this week to see the greatest display of

Furniture, Pictures, Mirrors

that you have ever seen outside of the large city stores.

We have made a special effort to get this year the best line we have ever had.

Our Prices are Below the Mark

Don't fail to come in.

H. B. BENDER,

The Homefurnisher
Balto. St., near Court House

You Will Need

CHRISTMAS GROCERIES

Fruits and Green Groceries

Our Christmas stock has been especially selected. Oranges from 15 to 40 cts. dozen. Fresh supply of all kinds of Nuts. Large assortment of candies. Fresh shipment of Green Groceries twice a week.

Fresh Mountain Celery Every Week

J. B. Wineman,

Centre Square

ANNUAL CHRISTMAS

OPENING AT

MYERS'

On the Diamond

EVERYBODY INVITED

Buy Your Xmas Fruits and Nuts
from U. Ambrosia Fruit Co.
Our line for this Xmas exceeds all other years

California Oranges	English Walnuts
Florida Oranges	American Walnuts
Tangerines	Pecans
Grapefruit	Almonds (paper shell)
Malaga Grapes	Butternuts
Apples	Hazelnuts
Raisins	Chestnuts

Lemons

Pure Italian Olive Oil

No. 6 Baltimore Street.

Culp's Restaurant,

The place to get a lunch in a hurry.
Regular dinners served. Boarding by the day or week. The place to meet your friends. Under the First National Bank Building, Centre Square.

Holiday Goods at Klepper's

In addition to our already large stock we have added for the Christmas Season a line of

Chinaware, Lamps, Glassware and Candies

that is unsurpassed in this section. Our two store rooms are full to the brim of interesting and appropriate gifts. This stock will have to be kept moving and we have prices marked so that it will move.

Remember you can select a Xmas Gift to please everybody at KLEPPER'S STORE, Arendtsville.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chatham, N. Y.,
Press Correspondent New York State Grange

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

Proposed Movement to Broaden Grange Thought.

A Maine Woman Advocates a Course of Study For Grange Members Along Chautauqua Lines, With Definite Ends in View.

There is no doubt at all that the grange is one of the greatest educational forces of the day, particularly for those residing in strictly rural districts. It has opened up new avenues of thought and study, it has developed latent talent, it has disclosed no little ability which without it might never have been revealed, and yet the educational work of the Order has lacked system. It has not been directed by any single mind and has therefore not accomplished what it might have accomplished.

One of the brightest women connected with the grange in Maine is Mrs. George E. Warren of Durham. A fine scholar herself, she is especially active in movements of an educational nature. For several years, says the Lewiston Journal, Mrs. Warren has been agitating for a movement inside the grange that would establish and direct a regular course of study. She would pattern this after the Chautauqua organization and have a course laid out by the state grange. This course of study would include history, ancient and modern, and all the philosophical and reform movements of the day. Especial attention would be given to political economy and its relation to the agricultural industry. Botany and horticulture would be included in the prescribed studies, as well as those sciences that relate to birds and their habits. It would not be compulsory for grange members to take this course unless they desired to do so. In every subordinate grange there would be some who would be delighted with the idea and who would take advantage of the opportunity. These members would form a club and receive their instruction from the state grange. From that source they would be told what to study and would be compelled to pass occasional examinations before some competent committee appointed by the state grange officials.

The great advantage to be derived from such a course of study can be seen at once. In every grange there would be certain members educated along certain lines in which they would become very proficient. Such members would be called upon now and then to write papers on their favorite studies that could be read before the grange. This would be the means of educating those members who were not taking the regular course. Mrs. Warren has carefully studied out this problem and is convinced that it is not only feasible, but extremely necessary.

It Pays.

It pays to wear a smiling face
And laugh our troubles down,
For all our little trials wait
Our laughter or our frown.
Beneath the magic of a smile
Our doubts will fade away
As melts the frost in early spring
Beneath the sunny ray.
It pays to make a worthy cause
By making it our own,
To give the current of our lives
A true and noble tone.
It pays to comfort heavy hearts
Oppressed with dull despair
And leave in sorrow darkened lines
A gleam of brightness there.
—Fannie E. Emmis.

A Bridal Tour.

At a fashionable wedding in a southern city the contracting parties were a wealthy widower and a handsome young lady, and a faithful old servant who had lived with the first wife all her married life was reporting the festivities confidentially the next morning to a neighbor.

When she finished a fellow servant asked, "Is he going to take a bridal tour?"

The old woman looked startled and then, glancing around to see that no one was near, whispered, "Well, I don't know ez he will take a bride to her if she gets cantankerous, but he sure did take a strap to the other one."

Farm and Garden

TAKE CARE OF THE ROADS.

Government and Many States Interested in Highway Improvements. The United States has entered upon a great era of road improvement. Large appropriations from state funds have been made for such work. At least twenty states have made such appropriations. In some states individual counties are obtaining satisfactory results by large bond issues.

The demand for men specially qualified in highway engineering is increasing at a rapid rate, and for this reason the department of agriculture in Washington has co-operated with educational institutions and urged the establishment of courses in highway engineering or a modification of civil engineering courses, so as to provide the necessary instruction. Many colleges and universities are making definite progress along these lines. In connection with this movement the department

NO INSECTS ON THIS ROAD.

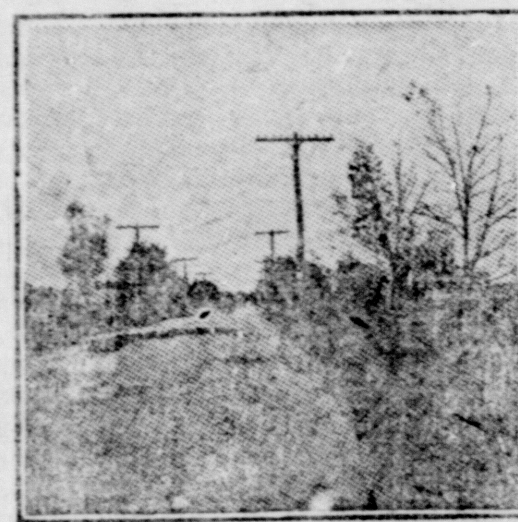

ment has for several years appointed annually a small number of graduates in civil engineering and given to them thorough and practical training in highway work for one year. A number of these young engineers have passed from the department's service to important situations in state and county road work.

In many parts of the country almost devoid of road building rocks the cost of macadam roads is prohibitive. Experiments have demonstrated that the sand-clay method of road construction is a fairly good substitute for macadam road, and roads so built are giving satisfaction in various southern states.

Burnt clay is another material with which experiments have been made in road construction, and it is found to be desirable to use this material where macadam roads cannot be made at a cost of not more than one-third of the usual cost of the latter.

Dust prevention on public roads has received investigation in this country as well as in Europe. The materials used in the experiments of the government department have included, among others, tar preparations, asphalt, oils, such temporary expedients as calcium chloride and several special preparations originating in the department. The testing of road materials to determine their suitability for road building has reached a high state of efficiency in the department.

Some states are rapidly giving more permanent construction to the principal highways. The state of New York in a recent year expended for this purpose more than $1,000,000; Massachusetts, about $375,000; Connecticut, about $220,000; New Jersey, about $250,000; Pennsylvania and Vermont, about $130,000 each. Among the states that have pushed this work the more rapidly are Massachusetts and Rhode Island, where about one-half of the mileage of the public roads is improved; Indiana and Ohio, with more than one-third improved; California, with about one-fifth; Connecticut, Kentucky, New Jersey and Wisconsin, with more than one-sixth, and Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, New Hampshire, New York, Tennessee and Utah, with about one-tenth.

POORLY KEPT ROAD—RAIL FENCE OVERGROWN.

A very good idea of the well kept road and the one that is neglected can be obtained by a study of the illustrations here given.

A Good Garden.

A good home garden is a great institution. It means more on many farms than the crop of wheat, corn or oats. It furnishes food for the family throughout the summer and, if properly handled, a liberal supply for winter. Some gardens are handled so skillfully that there is a surplus of vegetables for sale almost every week. It means much to the farmer and his family and should be planned with the utmost care and given the very best attention.

Makes the most nutritious food and the most dainty and delicious

Royal

Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

No fretting over the biscuit making. Royal is first aid to many a cook's success

1910 SALE DATES

Date.	Name.	Township.	Auctioneer.
Jan. 1.	Adam Bennett	Highland	Taylor
Jan. 5.	M. T. Chuck	Straban	Thompson
Feb. 5.	C. I. Bentzel	Straban	Thompson
Feb. 12.	Walter Beamer	Straban	Thompson
Feb. 21.	John P. Mummet	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Feb. 26.	Curtis McGlaughlin	Franklin	Martz
Feb. 26.	D. C. Shanebrook	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 1.	Jacob Guise	Straban	Thompson
Mar. 2.	John W. McIlhenny	Straban	Thompson
Mar. 2.	J. Howard Brown	Highland	Caldwell
Mar. 3.	W. K. Weikert	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 3.	C. O. Bushey	Franklin	Thompson
Mar. 3.	Edward Martin	Cumberland	Caldwell & Currans
Mar. 4.	H. D. Bream	Straban	Slaybaugh
Mar. 4.	R. N. Nunemaker	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 5.	J. C. Minter	Franklin	Martz
Mar. 5.	C. F. Glass	Straban	Thompson
Mar. 7.	Edw. Keefer	Huntington	Thompson
Mar. 7.	John P. Butt	Franklin	Martz
Mar. 8.	Henry Keiser	Hamilton	Thompson
Mar. 10.	D. F. Bucher	Mt. Joy	Thompson
Mar. 10.	James F. Diehl	Franklin	Martz
Mar. 12.	Simon P. Miller	Mt. Joy	Thompson
Mar. 14.	Harry G. Bucher	Franklin	Martz
Mar. 14.	E. A. Olinger	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 15.	Harry Brady	Butler	Slaybaugh
Mar. 15.	Harry Eckert	Straban	Thompson
Mar. 16.	Charles Osborne	Menallen	Slaybaugh
Mar. 16.	D. D. Renner	Germany	Thompson
Mar. 17.	Peter Berger	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 17.	Lower Brothers	Table Rock	Thompson
Mar. 22.	A. J. Hawn	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 23.	J. F. Little	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 24.	Chas. Bucher	Mt. Pleasant	Thompson
Mar. 26.	G. R. Thompson	Mt. Pleasant	D. K. Walker

Farmers!

C. W. Bream, Biglerville, will pay the highest cash price for Hay and Straw, or will bale it by the ton.

United Phone.

First National Bank of Gettysburg
New Bank Building
Centre Square Gettysburg, Pa.
Capital $100,000
Surplus 150,000
D. G. Minter Pres., Alex. Spangler V. Pres.,
S. M. Bushman, Cashier,
J. Elmer Musselman Asst. Cashier.
Your account is respectfully solicited.

Have You Laid In The Winter Supply of Coal?

Try us this year for prompt service and full weight.

OTHER THINGS WE HANDLE ARE

Wood, Lumber, Terra Cotta, Tiling, Patent Wall Plaster and Cement.

J. O. BLOCHER,

Opposite W. M. Depot.

The Gettysburg Times

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY

Times and News Publishing Company Inc.

W. Lavere Hafer,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Philip R. Bikle,
President.

Philip R. Bikle, Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Served by carrier in Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
Mailed outside of Gettysburg for 25 cents per month.
Single copies to non-subscribers, 2 cents.

If you receive The Times by mail you can find the date up to which you are paid, on the pink address label on your paper. The date will be changed within four days after your money is received at The Times office.

Entered August 15, 1904, at Gettysburg, Pa., as second-class matter, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

BELL PHONE

UNITED PHONE

Office in Northwest corner of Centre Square, Gettysburg, Pa.

Want ads. 1 cent per word for first insertion and one-half cent per word for each additional insertion. Resolutions of respect, poetry and memoriams one-half cent per word.

The White is King

The White Sewing Machine has proven itself one of the greatest sewing machines ever made, having all of the good points of all machines combined in one.

There is nothing known that could be added to this machine to improve it. There are near 500 in this neighborhood and we can prove what we say.

From now to Christmas will give special low prices. Terms to suit you.

Chas. S. MUMPER

No Credit No Losses

The public is invited to call and have all its wants supplied and at prices that will astonish you.

We have Quantity, Quality and Price
Candies

This is headquarters for pure candies from 8c per pound upwards.

Oranges

Oranges in abundance and at prices never so low. Our Christmas decorations never were finer.

Glassware

A fine line of glassware. Decorated salad and fruit dishes 25 cents upward. A fine assortment of Japanese ware.

Decorated Dinner Sets

Decorated dinner sets $2.75, $3.50, $4.00 and upwards, for Lamps of all kinds we are the headquarters. Our line was never as large. Call and see what 5, 10 and 25 cents will buy.

Groceries

Our groceries are fresh and fine and prices right.

PEOPLE'S CASH STORE

New Fall and Winter Shoes

Store open until 8 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 15, 1909.

C. B. Kitzmiller.

NOTICE

We will pay the highest cash price for hides. We are in the market the year around, not only when cold weather comes.

OYLER & SPANGLER, Gettysburg Pa.

WANTED—A good steady boy to learn a good trade. An excellent opportunity for a bright boy who wishes to become a mechanic. Apply by letter to J. care Times office.

GET THE HABIT

Have your laundry work done by the Modern Steam Laundry of York. It cannot be excelled in Gettysburg—exclusiveness is the keynote of our laundry. Urie S. Wallick, agent, At J. H. Myers Clothing Store.

Eat Zeigler's bread

Private Sale

I offer at private sale a house and lot and all necessary outbuildings located on Centennial Street, Fairfield, Pa. now occupied by C. B. Reindollar. House contains seven rooms, large stable and fine well of water. Possession April 1st, 1910.

J. J. REINDOLLAR

WANTED—Hay and straw. The undersigned will pay the highest market price for hay and straw. Loose in the mow, or baled. Write or phone to Rhinehart and Hoffman, Biglerville, Pa.

BRANDS PEERS AS USURPERS

Commons Adopts Resolution Denouncing Lords.

WILL DISSOLVE PARLIAMENT

Premier Asquith Denounces the Rejection of the Budget and Scathingly Rebukes the Peers—General Election in January.

London, Dec. 3.—The house of commons, by a vote of 349 to 134, passed the resolution of Premier Herbert H. Asquith, that in rejecting the budget bill the house of lords had committed a breach of the constitution and had usurped the rights of the house of commons.

Arthur Henderson, leader of the Labor party, announced that the government would have the whole-hearted support of the Laborites in the coming struggle.

Premier Asquith announced that the government had advised King Edward to dissolve parliament and that his majesty had accepted the invitation. The premier added that if the Liberals were returned to power the first act of the government would be the re-enactment of all taxes provided in the budget rejected by the house of lords.

HERBERT H. ASQUITH.

All preliminaries to the great political battle were cleared away at Sandringham, where the king met the privy council and signed an order proroguing parliament until Jan. 17, 1910.

The fixing of this date was a mere formality, as before that time the present house will have been dissolved.

It is understood that parliament will be dissolved so as to permit elections between Jan. 10 and 20.

The center of interest was the house of commons, where Premier Asquith delivered the government reply to the rejection of the budget by the lords.

Circumstances Without Example.
Premier Asquith's first words, as he rose amid wild demonstrations of enthusiasm, to move the resolution of which he had given notice on Tuesday, were:

"We are meeting under circumstances without example in the history of the British parliament."

The prime minister pointed out that in opening parliament the king had invited the house of commons alone to make provision for the heavy additional expenditure in view of the necessities in the way of social reform and national defense.

The budget was the result, and it represented, he said, in a greater degree than could be said of any other measure of "our time," the deliberate work of an overwhelming majority of the representatives of the people.

In the course of the week that whole fabric had been thrown to the ground by a body which admittedly had no power to increase or decrease a single tax.

The session of parliament was closing, the premier said, without a financial act, and until fresh provision could be made the necessities of state could be supplied only by borrowing.

He hoped the ultimate loss to the nation would not be very great, but added, so far as the present financial year is concerned, it is obvious that the result of the action of the house of lords must create the largest deficit yet faced.

Five Men Injured in Powder Explosion
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Dec. 3.—Evan Thomas was fatally and four others slightly injured by the explosion of a powder magazine in a stone quarry at Buttonwood, near here. Two horses were so badly hurt by flying debris that they had to be shot. The magazine contained 100 pounds of high explosives.

Chile Signs Alsop Protocol.
Santiago, Chile, Dec. 3.—The protocol with the United States for the reference of the Alsop claim to King Edvard for mediation was signed by the government of Chile.

The Weather.
Forecast for this section: Unsettled weather today; probably local rains tonight or tomorrow; light northeast to east winds.

TAFT FINISHES MESSAGE

Hears Congressmen Who Ask That Bureau of Mines Be Established.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Having completed the work upon his message, President Taft began receiving congressional and other visitors.

The message is in the hands of the public printer. The president felt relieved when he had completed the dictation.

Several visitors during the day talked to the president about portions of his message. Among those were Representatives Douglas, of Ohio, and Austin, of Tennessee. Both men are deeply interested in the establishment of a bureau of mines and mining. Mr. Douglas told the president that if there had been such a bureau with up-to-date methods, the awful disaster at Cherry, Ill., probably would have been averted. The president has made a recommendation for such a bureau.

STRICKEN BLIND

Easton Machinist Called For Light, Not Realizing Illumination.

Easton, Pa., Dec. 3.—Joseph L. Gadbois, thirty years old, machinist at the Nazareth Knitting company's large plant, was stricken blind at his home. He had been reading and had turned off the light in the library and started for his sleeping apartment on the second floor.

At the head of the steps he called to his wife to turn on the light, not knowing that the room was brilliantly illuminated. It was then that the terrible affliction was realized.

JEFF-JOHNSON FIGHT IN 'FRISCO ON JULY 4

To Battle For Championship and $101,000 Purse.

New York, Dec. 3.—The world's championship fight between James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson will be held in San Francisco before a club organized by Tex Rickard, of Ely, Nev., and Jack Gleason, on July 4, 1910.

The bid made by Rickard and Gleason of a purse of $101,000 and the contestants to take 66 2-3 per cent of the moving picture receipts was accepted by representatives of Johnson and Jeffries.

The successful bid provides that the fight shall take place in California, Utah or Nevada, but it was stated that without doubt the mill would take place in San Francisco. In view of the fact that James Coffroth, manager of the Sunshine Athletic club, controls certain patents on moving pictures, it was thought that Rickard and Gleason would enter into some agreement with him whereby they could have the fight take place in the Colma arena.

FIND SLAIN CHILD ON ROOF

Little Seven-Year-Old Girl Was Evidently Strangled After Struggle.

New York, Dec. 3.—Lotta Menninger, the seven-year-old daughter of Charles Menninger, who was kidnapped from her home on Nov. 29, was found murdered on the roof of a tenement house. The little girl had apparently been strangled.

Her body was found by one of the tenants in the house. The police were immediately notified and all the available detectives were sent to find the man who is believed to have lured her away from home.

The body was identified by the girl's father. It bore bruises about the neck and there was a cut above the right eye. The little girl had plainly been in a terrible struggle with her murderer.

Defeated for School Board; Drops Dead

Fitzgerald, Ga., Dec. 3.—While he was listening to election returns that showed he had met defeat in his fight for membership on the school board of this city, Professor James T. Saunders, prominent educator and principal of the first school established in this city, dropped dead.

Retired Army Officer Dies Suddenly.

Washington, Dec. 3.—While on a visit to this city from his home at Charleston, S. C., Brigadier General Henry M. Adams, U. S. A., retired, died suddenly. He was identified for a number of years with the engineer corps of the army.

PRODUCE QUOTATIONS.

The Latest Closing Prices For Produce and Live Stock.

PHILADELPHIA.—FLOUR quiet; winter low grades, $4.40@4.60; winter clear, $4.80@5; city mills, fancy, $6@6.20.

RYE FLOUR firm, at $4.35@4.50 per barrel.

WHEAT steady; No. 2 red, $1.12@1.14.

CORN steady; No. 2 yellow, local, 72@72½c.

OATS steady; No. 2 white, 46½c.; lower grades, 45c.

POULTRY: Live steady; hens, 15½@16c.; old roosters, 11c. Dressed steady; choice fowls, 17½c.; old roosters, 12c.

BUTTER steady; extra creamery, 35c. per lb.

EGGS firm; selected, 35@37c.; nearby, 32c.; western, 32c.

POTATOES steady, at 58@60c. per bushel.

Live Stock Markets.

PITTSBURG (Union Stock Yards).—CATTLE steady; choice, $6.80@7.10; prime, $6.50@6.75.

SHEEP steady; prime wethers, $4.90@5.10; culls and common, $2@3; lambs, $5@7.70; veal calves, $9@9.50.

HOGS strong; prime heavies, $8.45@8.50; mediums, $8.45; heavy Yorkers, $8.35@8.40; light Yorkers and pigs, $8.25@8.30; roughs, $7@7.75.

GIVE A BOOK

If it is an interesting book, it will be gratefully received. Here are a few new books that are great sellers. Old Rose and Silver, Hungry Heart, Stradella, Half a Chance, Bella Donna. Any books not in stock can be gotten in a few days. G. A. Henty and Horatio Alger books for boys 17c, 25c, and 35c.

Eaton Crane Writing Paper
Lowney's Candies

in boxes and baskets 60 cents to $5.00

Subscriptions taken for all magazines. Christmas cards, Post cards, Calendars, Booklets, Calendar pads, Seals, Tags, etc.

S. J. BUMBAUGH,
Centre Square, Gettysburg.

Send Them a Load of Coal and make their Christmas as warm and cheerful as yours. A quarter, half or ton of coal won't cost you much and it will be gratefully received by your needy friends.

Send your order to

Col. E. Spangler

100 Carlisle Street.

A GOOD BOOK

will be appreciated especially if it is one of those interesting ones we sell.

FINE WRITING PAPER

notably Eaton Hurlburt's hot pressed Vellum, will impress the recipient with your good taste.

A FOUNTAIN PEN

that will write easily without dropping ink or leaking is the only kind to give—you can get one here.

FANCY CALENDARS

are greatly prized. Our line includes many novelties and starts at 10 cents.

L. M. BUEHLER

9 Chambersburg St.

Gettysburg, Pa.

The Great TAMPA BAY HOTEL

(Fireproof)

Tampa, Florida

Management of David Lauber | Fifth Year

WINTER SEASON NOV. 24th., to APRIL 10th.

In the midst of a most wonderful tropical park. Climate ideal. Sunshine, flowers, music, tennis, boating, fishing, hunting, motoring, driving and riding. 100 miles of dustless shell roads.

No Storms or Fogs on the West Coast.

Information and booklet for the asking.

Address Tampa Bay Hotel, or any Agent. Seaboard Air Line, Atlantic Coast-Line Southern Ry. also Mallory, Savannah and Clyde S. S. Lines.

OUR STOCK OF MOULDINGS

and Picture Frames is at its best for the Christmas Season.

Don't spoil a good picture by a cheap or inartistic frame

Bring it to us and let us give you the frame that is in keeping with the picture and accentuates its good points.

Christmas Framing should be done early.

Our Holiday Styles of Portraits can now be seen in our Studio.

TIPTON'S STUDIO,
20 & 22 Chambersburg Street

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.

When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.
old by Druggists, 75c.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE MARKETS

Prices at the Gettysburg warehouses corrected daily by C. Milton Wolf, Jr., Successor to J. Geo. Wolf's Sons Co.,

	Per Bu.
New Dry Wheat	1.10
New Ear Corn	60
Rye	65
New Oats	45

RETAIL PRICES

	Per 100
Cotton Seed meal	1.70
Cotton Seed meal per ton	33.00
Badger Cow Feed	1.30
Schmacker Stock Feed	1.50
Wheat Bran	$1.30
Corn and Oats Chop	1.50
White Middlings	1.50
Red Middlings	1.40
Timothy hay	85
Rye chop	1.60
Baled staw	50
Plaster	$7.50 per ton
Cement	$1.25 per bbl

	Per bbl.
Flour	$5.50
Western flour	6.00

	Per bu.
Wheat	1.20
Corn	80
New Ear Corn	70
New oats	50

PRODUCE AT WHOLESALE

Butter firm, good demand, 24c. in the print; eggs, market firm, 23c. live fowl, 11c; Spring Chicken, 12 calves 06

Headache

Take ONE of the Little Tablets and the Pain is Gone

NEURALGIA BACKACHE

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for years and find that they are the one thing that will certainly give a sufferer the desired relief."

Mrs. J. P. Brissell, Tonawanda, N.Y.

AND THE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM and SCIATICA

25 Doses 25 Cents

Your Druggist sells Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and he is authorized to return the price of the first package (only) if it fails to benefit you.

Norfolk & Western

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT OCT 31, 1909.

LEAVE HAGERSTOWN, Md., DAILY

1.45 a. m.—For Luray, Natural Bridge, Roanoke, Pulaski, Bristol, Bluefield, Pocahontas, Norton and Welch Pullman sleeper Philadelphia, Welch and Gary. Connects at Roanoke for Winston and Charlotte, N.C. Dining Car.

7.42 a. m.—For Luray, Natural Bridge, Roanoke, Bristol and intermediate stations. Pullman sleeper New York to Bristol, Tenn. Connects at Roanoke for Bluefield, Pocahontas, Columbus, Cincinnati and the West Pullman sleeper. Dining Car.

5.55 p. m.—For Luray, Shenandoah, and intermediate stations.

If you are thinking of taking a trip YOU want quotations, cheapest fares, reliable and correct information, as to routes, train schedules, the most comfortable and quickest way. Write and the information is yours for the asking, with one of our complete Map Folders.

W. B. BEVILL, M. F. BRAGG, Gen'l Pass. Agt. FIVE PASS AGT. Roanoke, Virginia.

Buy the Sprengle favorite Sewing Machine, $20, $25, $30 and $35. Pay $2.00 down, balance 50 cents per week. One Rotary White to close at $32.50. C. A. Sprengle.

WANTED several good second hand stoves. Will trade furniture for same. Apply C. A. Sprengle, 142 Carlisle street.

Teachers of school and church before buying your Christmas candles, etc., call and see what we can do for you. Peoples Cash Store.

WHEAT WANTED at Gettysburg flour Mills.

Eat Ziegler's bread

MORGAN BUYS EQUITABLE LIFE

Secures Control of Company With $472,000,000 Assets.

GETS T. F. RYAN'S STOCK

The Transaction Is Subject to the Approval of Trustees O'Brien and Westinghouse—Price Paid For Ryan's Holdings Could Not Be Learned.

New York, Dec. 3.—J. Pierpont Morgan has bought stock control in the Equitable Life Assurance society. The transaction conveys to him all of the stock owned by Thomas F. Ryan, including the 502 shares bought by Mr. Ryan from James Hazen Hyde in June, 1905, at the height of the internal dissensions in the company and the disclosures of the financial transactions of various of the managers and trustees. The 502 shares formerly owned by Mr. Hyde alone carry stock control, the total capitalization being $100,000, divided into 1000 shares of $100 par value.

Mr. Ryan has been at his Virginia place, Oak Ridge, for several days, and no statements as for his reasons for selling control of the stock was obtainable at his offices here or from his attorneys. On behalf of Mr. Morgan, the following brief statement, given out at his office, was all that was officially said: "Mr. Morgan has bought the majority of the stock of the Equitable Life Assurance society formerly owned by Thomas F. Ryan. This purchase is subject to the trust under which Grover Cleveland, Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse were made voting trustees for the benefit of policyholders, and it covers all Mr. Ryan's interest, including all the stock purchased by him from James H. Hyde."

J. PIERPONT MORGAN.

Dividend Limited to 7 Per Cent.

Mr. Ryan paid $2,500,000 for the Hyde holdings, though the dividend on the stock is limited to 7 per cent per annum, or on 502 shares to an annual income return of but $3514. The amount that Mr. Morgan paid for these holdings could not be learned.

From one standpoint control of the Equitable does not convey the importance that was attached to it when Mr. Ryan secured control. Then the stock nominated all the trustees, and the trustees had practically unlimited power in the investment of the upwards of $472,000,000 assets of the company. The power of the stock in naming trustees Mr. Ryan voluntarily abridged, so that twenty-eight of the fifty-two trustees have since been named by the policyholders. The laws passed by the recommendation of the legislative investigating committee have stricken stocks and several classes of bonds from the list of securities in which the company has a right to invest the moneys under its control.

The outside insurance written by the company amounted at the date of the last report to $1,326,478,540. It had then a surplus of $81,267,467, a general insurance reserve of $334,152,880, and total assets of $472,339,509.

Italian Cabinet Falls.

Rome, Dec. 3.—The cabinet of Premier Giolitti resigned. The announcement of the resignation of the whole cabinet was made by Premier Giolitti following the failure of the chamber of deputies to pass the bill presented by the government as a measure of fiscal reform. The government has proposed the reduction of indirect taxation on necessities, the loss of revenue from this source to be offset by a progressive income tax.

Auto Runs Down Woman.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Miss Grace Todd, of the New York branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society, while driving in a carriage was run down and probably fatally injured by an automobile owned and driven by William H. Cramer, of Fultonville, in that place. There is little hope for her recovery.

General Dudley Dangerously Ill.

Washington, Dec. 3.—General W. W. Dudley, of Indiana, formerly commissioner of pensions, is lying dangerously ill at his home in this city.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Woman Defended by Samuel Untermyer Goes Free.

New York, Dec. 3.—Augusta Cristanti, the Italian woman who has been on trial for the murder of her husband, Luigi, on Aug. 18, was acquitted. Samuel Untermyer, the corporation lawyer, had been assigned by the court to defend her.

The woman herself was called to the witness stand. She told a story of many years of quarrelling with her husband and of his constant threats to kill her and her children. Under Mr. Untermyer's questioning she repeated in detail the story of the stabbing and said that she had not meant to kill her husband, but to make him drop the revolver he held.

After the verdict had been turned in Max Lowenthal, juror No. 7, handed Mr. Untermyer $250 in cash and asked that it be given to the woman. The jury also wanted to make up a purse, but Mr. Untermyer said the woman did not ask for charity and refused to take any money for her. He said that he would collect his fee of $500 from the state for defending her and turn it over to Mrs. Cristanti. Mr. Untermyer said that the case had cost him $1000 to prepare. In summing up Mr. Untermyer was severe concerning the conditions he found in the criminal courts of the county.

COW TRIES TO BREAK INTO CHESTER HOSPITAL

Nurses and Physicians Were Wildly Excited.

Chester, Pa., Dec. 3.—Pretty white-capped nurses, physicians and other attendants at the Chester hospital were thrown into a fever of excitement and alarm when a cow that was believed to be suffering with rabies ran over the hospital grounds and attempted to break into the kitchen of the institution. Then, coming around to the front part of the building, she did her level best to climb up a flight of ten steep steps leading to the main entrance.

The animal was finally lassoed by William Ditchfield, a local butcher, assisted by Samuel B. Logan, agent for the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and half a dozen other men. She was then chained to a stone post until she had become pacified.

Just what caused the cow to act as she did no one seems to know. She was going along quietly when she made the break for liberty and did her mad dance upon the hospital grounds.

MANY HEADS TO FALL

To Dismiss All Useless Government Employees in Interest of Economy.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The road roller is to run over a lot of useless government employees before the winter is over. The first cries are expected next Monday, when the estimates go to congress.

Not only is the work of the departments in Washington being analyzed with a view to rigid economy, but every public office in every state will receive the same treatment. This will include every mint, especially the big mint at Philadelphia; every custom house, every internal revenue office, every postoffice and all other offices where the public money is expended. The promise was made by Senator Aldrich, during the tariff debates, that a saving of from 25 to 40 per cent is possible, and the administration is aiming to reach those figures.

This means that preparations are now being made for many consolidations where work heretofore has been duplicated. The business output of each bureau and office is being scanned, the discipline of each office examined and the methods pursued are studied, all with a view of increasing the efficiency and at the same time reducing the cost. The administration has gone far enough to know that this can be done.

547 PATIENTS POISONED

Two Inmates of Asylum Dead and 68 Dying From Poisoned Rice.

Berlin, Dec. 3.—Five hundred and forty-seven patients in the asylum at Friedrichsberg, near Hamburg, are ill from the effects of poisoned rice, that is supposed to have been given to them by one of the employees. Two patients have died from eating the poisoned food and sixty-eight cases are considered hopeless. Portions of the rice which were not eaten are being chemically analyzed.

Florence Robber Gets Five Years.

Mount Holly, N. J., Dec. 3.—The last act in a drama which had its setting on a prosperous farm near Florence, was enacted when Judge Horner imposed a sentence of five years in the state prison on John Ellsworth, who, after being arrested in Chicago, pleaded guilty to breaking open a safe at the home of Schuyler Rainier on Nov. 5, taking $2070.

Two Drowned While Skating.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Acil Conyee, aged twenty-five years, and his brother, Roy, aged twenty years, were the victims of a double drowning on Black pond while enjoying a skate in the moonlight. The older boy lost the skate from his right foot and fell, breaking through the ice. Roy went to his rescue and the two were drowned.

LIBERTY FOR RUEF

San Francisco, Dec. 3.—Abraham Ruef, former Republican "boss" of San Francisco, will be released from jail under $300,000 bail, following an order signed by Judge Cabaniss.

NOW READY TO CRUSH ZELAYA

U. S. Rushes Armed Force to Nicaragua.

REPARATION IS DEMANDED

Rear Admiral Kimball Sails From Philadelphia to Command Naval Forces—Will Blockade Chief Ports of Central American Republic and Land Marines If Necessary.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The trend of events here indicate that the United States is determined to eliminate President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, not only from his office as chief executive of that republic, but from his position as a disturbing factor in Central American affairs.

Toward the accomplishment of this the first step was taken when Secretary of State Knox dismissed Zelaya's envoy in this country and gave him his passports; the second, if found necessary, will be the landing of an armed force in Nicaragua to crush Zelaya, restore peace and assure the protection of American citizens and American interests in the turbulent country.

That the United States intends to be prepared to meet any hostile act on the part of President Zelaya was clearly indicated when the cruiser Albany and the gunboat Yorktown were ordered to proceed at once to the Pacific coast of Nicaragua to join the Vicksburg, which has been lying off Corinto for several days. The transport Buffalo is preparing to leave Panama with 500 marines, and the Princeton is speeding down the Pacific coast with Corinto as her destination.

The auxiliary cruiser Prairie left Philadelphia with several hundred marines who will take the places of those sent on the Buffalo from Panama to Corinto.

The United States, it is said, can well afford to await developments, as by waiting it would not lose any of its prestige or sacrifice any advantage in the matter of indemnity for the killing of Cannon and Groce, the two Americans executed by order of Zelaya.

An unusual political situation exists in Nicaragua. There are three de facto governments now in operation. One of these, in the eastern part of Nicaragua, is the provisional government, which has headquarters at Bluefields. At Managua the remains of the Zelaya administration comprise the de facto government. In the departments of Leon and Chinandega an apparently well organized revolutionary government in favor of Senor Areas, minister general, has developed.

THE PRAIRIE SAILS

Admiral Kimball and Over 700 Marines Off For Panama.

Philadelphia, Dec. 3.—The gunboat Prairie sailed from the League Island navy yard for Nicaragua, with Rear Admiral W. W. Kimball, of the United States navy, and over 700 marines on board. Three hundred more marines will be picked up off Norfolk, and, with 1000 regulars, will be landed in the troublesome Central American republic.

The prairie will join with five or six other minor warships of Uncle Sam's navy in enforcing a blockade of Nicaraguan ports and bringing President Zelaya to terms, according to a report given general credence at the navy yard.

One officer of the yard stated it as his belief that the men sailing would be further instructed to capture President Zelaya and bring him to Washington to stand trial for the slaying of two Americans, as well as to enforce the policy announced by Secretary Knox.

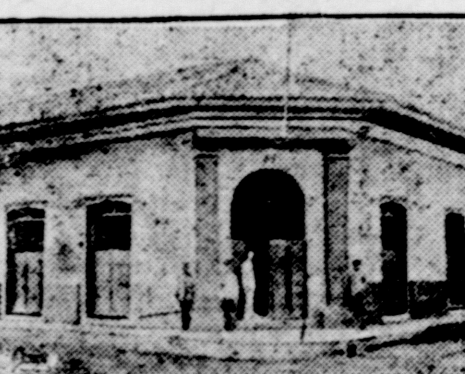

McKinley Tomb Guard Reduced.

Canton, O., Dec. 3.—Orders abolishing the standing guard of one company of regular army troops about the tomb of McKinley have been received here. Secretary of War Dickinson has decided to reduce the guard to two non-commissioned officers. It is believed that this guard will be ample.

H. McK. Twombly Very Ill.

Madison, N. J., Dec. 3.—The condition of Hamilton McK. Twombly, director in many of the Vanderbilt lines, who is ill at his home here, was said to be serious. All information as to the nature of his malady was refused at his house.

U. S. CONSULATE AT MANAGUA.

ed force in Nicaragua to crush Zelaya, restore peace and assure the protection of American citizens and American interests in the turbulent country.

GETS HIMSELF ARRESTED

"Leper" Early Goes to Washington to Make Things Lively.

Washington, Dec. 3.—John R. Early, the "leper," who threw scientists of two continents into a dispute, ventured to show himself in Washington again and was promptly clapped into quarantine. Early made no effort to escape arrest. In fact, he admitted he came to Washington prepared to make things lively for the district authorities if they locked him up.

Early arrived in Washington Wednesday and went to the Salvation Army hotel, where he registered.

While strolling around a newspaper man told him a health officer with a warrant was on the trail. Then he went to a police station and waited.

Dr. W. C. Fowler, chief of the bureau of contagious diseases, met Early there, and the police captain read the warrant to the "leper."

Hurt by Runaway Cow; May Die.

York, Pa., Dec. 3.—An incorrigible cow will likely be the cause of the death of Richard Koch, a resident of Wrightsville. He is suffering from a fracture of the skull and other injuries inflicted by the animal. The cow had run away, and Koch was among those who captured her. They placed a chain about her neck, to which they attached a heavy log. While being driven home the cow started to run, and Koch was struck on the head by the log.

Convict Liquor Law Violators.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Ninety per cent of the prosecutions brought in Illinois for alleged violations of the local option law result in convictions, as is shown by statistics presented to the Anti-Saloon league, in conference here, by H. L. Sheldon, its attorney.

Strikes Oil at Coopersburg.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dec. 3.—While drilling an artesian well at the Gabriel hosiery mill, at Coopersburg, workmen at a depth of 165 feet struck oil. The find caused considerable excitement among the town's citizens and owners of land in the immediate vicinity.

Baby Boy Scalded to Death.

Pottsville, Pa., Dec. 3.—Joseph, the three-year-old son of Andrew White-lock, of New Castle, near here, was scalded to death. The boy's mother left a boiler of hot water on the floor while she went upstairs.

Shot Woman, Rival and Himself.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 3.—Enraged because Lulu Wickline left his camp to live with Richard Pace, Brittain Medith shot and killed the woman, fatally wounded his rival and then shot himself in the head.

BIG FIRE IN BALTIMORE

Four Buildings Destroyed Near Scene of Great Conflagration.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 3.—Baltimore's great wholesale district was again threatened with destruction by a fire which started in the boot and shoe warehouse of Spear Brothers, 102 and 104 Hopkins place, within a stone's throw of the starting place of the big fire of 1904. Four large buildings were destroyed, the total loss being estimated at between $500,000 and $750,000. Four firemen were injured, none seriously. The buildings destroyed or gutted are as follows: Nos. 102 and 104 Sharp street, occupied by Spear Brothers, shoes; the Royal Cap company and the C. J. Peede Shoe company and Baker Brothers, glassware; Nos. 106 and 108, occupied by McCadden & McElwee, pictures and mirrors.

KIDNAPPED GIRL FOUND

Man Who Held Her Prisoner Four Days Under Arrest.

Halsted, Pa., Dec. 3.—After being kidnapped and held a prisoner for four days, thirteen-year-old Ella Ellis has been found and brought back to her home, while Freeman Slater, charged with kidnapping her, has been placed in jail at Montrose to await the action of the January grand jury. The girl was on her way home from the Locust Hill school when she says Slater met her and forced her to accompany him to Smoke Hollow, where he kept her for two days in a house occupied by Sid Galloway, and then took her to the house of Scott Melody, some distance away, where she was kept for two days more, until her stepfather, Andrew Colwell, and Constable Decker, who had been searching for her, found and rescued her and captured Slater.

SIGHTLESS FROM FOOTBALL INJURIES

Blindness From Blow on Head May be Temporary.

Asbury Park, N. J., Dec. 3.—Harold Yetman, the fifteen-year-old son of Charles Yetman, of Asbury Park, is practically sightless as the result of a rough and tumble tackle while playing at football. Yetman had a hard struggle with his tackle. The boys came to blows and Yetman got the worst of it. When he moved off the field a yellow haze was all that he could see. Light and objects were hidden and Yetman was blind. He was taken to his home, where a physician who was called said the blindness came from a blow on the forehead and would probably be overcome. Several hours later the lad was able to distinguish light from darkness, but could discern no object.

DR. PRETTYMAN'S SOUP FLAVORING.

By C. L. POINEER.
[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Dr. Prettyman was a specialist in brain diseases and visiting surgeon at a hospital.

At one of these visits the regular house surgeon was temporarily absent. Dr. Prettyman was sitting in the medical office, waiting for him, when a nurse entered and told him that a patient who was considered almost cured and had been given the post of cook was acting strangely. Would the doctor go down and see him? The doctor went to the kitchen and the nurse to a patient who especially required his attention.

Dr. Prettyman found the cook alone in the kitchen. Indeed, he had driven every one else out. He was a large, muscular man, and it did not need the doctor's practiced eye to see the light of insanity in his eye. He was standing over a large boiler which was filled with steaming soup.

"Doctor," said the lunatic, "come here and taste this soup. I fear it is not flavored right."

The doctor hesitated a moment, wondering if he had not better call assistance, then concluded to humor the patient. He went to the range, in which there was a very hot fire. The cook ladled out some soup, and the doctor tasted it, burning his tongue.

"It's all right," he said.

"But, doctor, I don't think there's meat enough in it. It's too thin. I should have more stock for it, but I haven't. The steward is stingy with his supplies. He gives me nothing, literally nothing, with which to feed all the mouths in this vast house. He's putting all the money they give him for provisions in his pocket. I wish I had him here. I'd chop him into bits."

Seizing a cleaver, he brandished it over the doctor's head, then went on excitedly:

"There's got to be more stock for this soup, and where is it to come from? I have it. You'll do, doctor. You'll do first rate. Your bones are small, but there's marrow in them, and your flesh is meaty, not fat."

He made a step toward the doctor.

It might be expected that the dapper physician would shriek for help. He knew only too well that this would excite the patient and before assistance could arrive the big cook would be chopping him up into soup stock. He kept his eye fixed steadily on the patient.

"Do you want your soup to retain its flavor?" he asked.

"Certainly I do."

"And don't want it to taste of asafetida?"

"Of course not."

"And parogite."

"No."

The doctor went through with a list of medicines, keeping his eye on the door, hoping that some one might happen in. But he was disappointed. Those whose place was in the kitchen purposely kept out, and others had no occasion to go there. At last the doctor was constrained to conclude.

"Well, if you don't want your soup to taste of these drugs I'd better get rid of my pocket medicine case which contains them all."

He spent as much time as he dared fumbling for his case, the cook growing impatient the while, then took it out, opened it, extracted one or two corks, smelled of the bottles and put one of them under the cook's nose. It contained ether. But the doctor knew very well that he couldn't put the lunatic asleep with ether unless he could hold it over his mouth and nose. He hoped to quiet him and to gain time. The cook thought it would improve the soup and with a wild laugh poured the contents into the caldron, stirring it with the ladle. Then he turned again to the doctor and seized him by the arm.

"Hold on a bit," said the doctor. "Here's something else."

He took a vial from his case marked "Choral."

"Taste that," he said, handing it to the cook.

The cook took a swallow.

"Fine, isn't it?" asked the doctor, breathing a sigh of partial relief.

The cook turned, threw the bottle into the soup, then, again seizing the doctor, lifted him, despite his efforts, on to a table used for cutting meat. Then the maniac looked about for his cleaver, which he had laid aside while flavoring the soup. The doctor, white as chalk, watched him, dreading that he might retain consciousness long enough to make one chop. The cleaver was within reach, but the cook did not see it. He put his hand to his head, reeled and sank to the floor.

The doctor got down from the table, went out of the kitchen, touched an alarm bell and went back to the insensible cook. In a moment several attendants came flying into the room, and when the cook came to himself he was in a straitjacket in an upper room.

When the dinner was served that day in the asylum every one complained of the remarkable flavor of the soup. Fortunately, the drugs with which it had been flavored were so diluted that no one was injured by them. It turned out that the cook who finished preparing the dinner in the excitement had not been informed of the additions made to the soup from Dr. Prettyman's medicine case.

DR. PRETTYMAN'S SOUP FLAVORING.

By C. L. POINEER.
[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Dr. Prettyman was a specialist in brain diseases and visiting surgeon at a hospital.

At one of these visits the regular house surgeon was temporarily absent. Dr. Prettyman was sitting in the medical office, waiting for him, when a nurse entered and told him that a patient who was considered almost cured and had been given the post of cook was acting strangely. Would the doctor go down and see him? The doctor went to the kitchen and the nurse to a patient who especially required his attention.

Dr. Prettyman found the cook alone in the kitchen. Indeed, he had driven every one else out. He was a large, muscular man, and it did not need the doctor's practiced eye to see the light of insanity in his eye. He was standing over a large boiler which was filled with steaming soup.

"Doctor," said the lunatic, "come here and taste this soup. I fear it is not flavored right."

The doctor hesitated a moment, wondering if he had not better call assistance, then concluded to humor the patient. He went to the range, in which there was a very hot fire. The cook ladled out some soup, and the doctor tasted it, burning his tongue.

"It's all right," he said.

"But, doctor, I don't think there's meat enough in it. It's too thin. I should have more stock for it, but I haven't. The steward is stingy with his supplies. He gives me nothing, literally nothing, with which to feed all the mouths in this vast house. He's putting all the money they give him for provisions in his pocket. I wish I had him here. I'd chop him into bits."

Seizing a cleaver, he brandished it over the doctor's head, then went on excitedly:

"There's got to be more stock for this soup, and where is it to come from? I have it. You'll do, doctor. You'll do first rate. Your bones are small, but there's marrow in them, and your flesh is meaty, not fat."

He made a step toward the doctor.

It might be expected that the dapper physician would shriek for help. He knew only too well that this would excite the patient and before assistance could arrive the big cook would be chopping him up into soup stock. He kept his eye fixed steadily on the patient.

"Do you want your soup to retain its flavor?" he asked.

"Certainly I do."

"And don't want it to taste of asafetida?"

"Of course not."

"And parogite."

"No."

The doctor went through with a list of medicines, keeping his eye on the door, hoping that some one might happen in. But he was disappointed. Those whose place was in the kitchen purposely kept out, and others had no occasion to go there. At last the doctor was constrained to conclude.

"Well, if you don't want your soup to taste of these drugs I'd better get rid of my pocket medicine case which contains them all."

He spent as much time as he dared fumbling for his case, the cook growing impatient the while, then took it out, opened it, extracted one or two corks, smelled of the bottles and put one of them under the cook's nose. It contained ether. But the doctor knew very well that he couldn't put the lunatic asleep with ether unless he could hold it over his mouth and nose. He hoped to quiet him and to gain time. The cook thought it would improve the soup and with a wild laugh poured the contents into the caldron, stirring it with the ladle. Then he turned again to the doctor and seized him by the arm.

"Hold on a bit," said the doctor. "Here's something else."

He took a vial from his case marked "Choral."

"Taste that," he said, handing it to the cook.

The cook took a swallow.

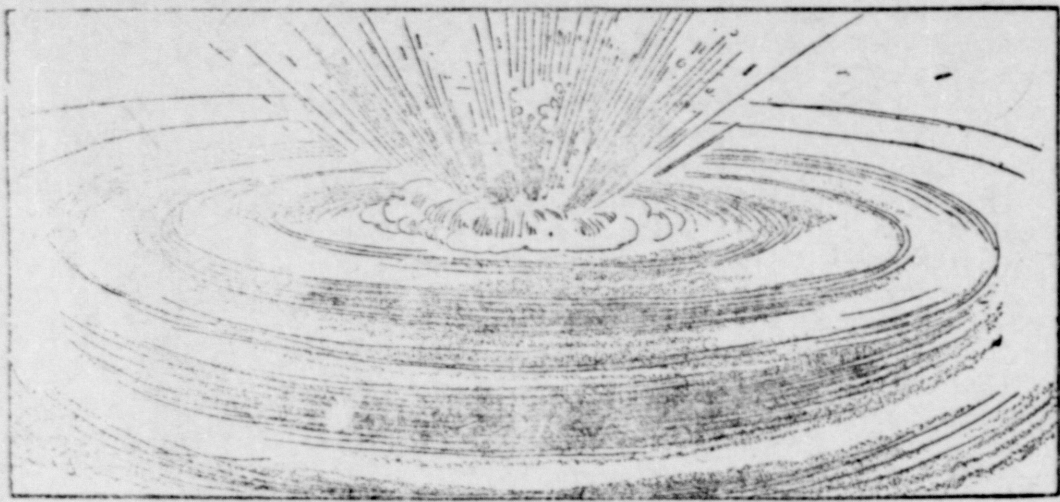

"Fine, isn't it?" asked the doctor, breathing a sigh of partial relief.

The cook turned, threw the bottle into the soup, then, again seizing the doctor, lifted him, despite his efforts, on to a table used for cutting meat. Then the maniac looked about for his cleaver, which he had laid aside while flavoring the soup. The doctor, white as chalk, watched him, dreading that he might retain consciousness long enough to make one chop. The cleaver was within reach, but the cook did not see it. He put his hand to his head, reeled and sank to the floor.

The doctor got down from the table, went out of the kitchen, touched an alarm bell and went back to the insensible cook. In a moment several attendants came flying into the room, and when the cook came to himself he was in a straitjacket in an upper room.

When the dinner was served that day in the asylum every one complained of the remarkable flavor of the soup. Fortunately, the drugs with which it had been flavored were so diluted that no one was injured by them. It turned out that the cook who finished preparing the dinner in the excitement had not been informed of the additions made to the soup from Dr. Prettyman's medicine case.

The Biggest Splash

A stone cast into a pond makes the biggest splash where it strikes. Same with news. It makes the greatest commotion where it happens. A fist fight in your block is more interesting to you than a battle of armies in a faroff country. Our paper is the BIG SPLASH for this vicinity. It gives you the home news as well as that of the world at large. ARE YOU A SUBSCRIBER?

For Xmas Suggestions

See our window at No. 6 Baltimore St. and get a surprise

If you appreciate good fresh candies we have them.
Peanut Brittle the most popular candy at 10cts. a lb.
Xmas and New Year post cards on sale at one cent each.

Gettysburg 5 & 10 Store

Gettysburg, Pa.

Feathers and Furs Wanted

I will pay good prices for feathers and furs on longer wearable. Write me and I will call at your residence. Women wanted at once to sort rags.

Harry Veiner

CARING FOR PIGS IN WINTER.

Pigs make satisfactory growth during the winter if given sufficient care and a suitable ration. They, of course, require more care than those farrowed in the spring, which, with freer range of pasture and plenty of succulent food, can to a great extent take care of themselves.

The first requirement is comfortable housing. Pigs that have sheltered around straw stacks and in fence corners, exposed to all kinds of weather, never produce as great a profit for their owner as those for which good quarters have been provided—in fact, they hardly pay for their feed. If a house is provided that can be shut up when the weather is inclement and opened when it is warm and settled the litters can be kept growing even during the most severe weather.

The building should be arranged to open to the south to admit air and sunlight. A shed made of straw will not answer the purpose. It may be made warm enough, but it cannot be properly ventilated, sunlight cannot be admitted, and, above all, it cannot be properly disinfected. The house must have a good floor, for pigs that are compelled to sleep on the ground are sure to contract rheumatism.

WELL BRED SOW.

It is essential that the house be cleaned out each week and new bedding laid, then disinfected. The quarters cannot be kept too free from disease germs.

Contrary to common belief, swine have some habits which raise them above other domestic animals from the standpoint of cleanliness. Unless compelled to do so they will not sleep in their own filth. If part of the floor of the house is kept well bedded with straw, while the rest is not, the excrement will be left on the unbedded portion of the floor, and the bed itself will always be clean.

In order to obtain the best results from the feed, it is necessary that all the pigs should get equal rations. When the pigs are hungry and the feed is such as they like, it is impossible to prevent some from getting more than their share if fed in a plain trough with either a flat or V shaped bottom.

Feed troughs should be with cross-bars dividing them into sections, so that the largest and greediest pigs are prevented from getting into them and also from pushing along down the trough, with their mouths in it, shoving the smaller pigs aside. Make the troughs in different sizes to suit the size of hogs fed therefrom.

When the pigs are two or three weeks old they will begin to take a little extra feed in addition to the milk they receive from the dam. Care must be exercised to start them in easy, feeding not more than twice a day, as they are likely to eat too much at the beginning. It should be borne in mind that overfeeding as well as underfeeding will make the pigs stumpy.

The feed for the pigs when they first begin to eat is slop made of middlings, to which is added a little blood meal. The blood meal is a bone and muscle maker and improves the feed. It is needless to say that skim milk is a most excellent feed for pigs, and sour milk may be fed if blood meal is given with it; otherwise it is apt to cause some indigestion. A great variety of feeding stuffs can be used. The main point to be observed is that the stomach of the young pig is easily deranged, and feeds must be given that are easily digested. The trough from which the pigs are fed should be kept as clean as possible, and no stale feed should remain in it from one feed to the next.

Young pigs that are well fed may become too fat. If such is the result, there is likely to be some loss unless abundant exercise is furnished. If any are inclined to lie in bed, get them outdoors and see that they get the exercise needed to maintain health and vigor.

As soon as a pig is discovered to be droopy or falling behind the rest of the herd, it should be taken out and put in an inclosure by itself.

The best system of weaning is to remove two or three of the strongest pigs in the litter to a separate pen and after a few days take away other strong ones, and so on until they are all removed, choosing the strongest ones each time. Thus the weaker pigs of the litter are given a better chance and the milk flow of the dam is allowed to decrease gradually until it ceases entirely.

The pigs should easily make a steady gain of from half a pound to a pound a day, according to the size of the animal, throughout the entire growing period. Corn may be fed with excellent results, but it should be supplemented by all the variety of feed at hand. This variety should consist of mill feeds, dairy byproducts and succulent feeds. If skim milk, whey and buttermilk are at command they can be combined to very good advantage with the ration, commencing with a proportion of about two pounds of milk to one of grain at weaning time and reducing the quantity of milk until the pigs are finished on grain alone.

A freak in grafting is reported by two brothers, miners, who have a garden near Delta, Colo. They grafted a scion from a four-year-old apple tree on to a service berry tree body, and in due time the inserted limb blossomed and bore two fine yellow apples. The union is a rather violent one and the results achieved quite unique.

HOW A TRADITION BECAME A CERTAINTY

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN.

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.

When about 1830 in Virginia a little girl baby came to Colonel and Mrs. St. Leger the colonel, whose ancestors had come to Virginia from Georgia, insisted on naming his daughter after the latter state. Little Georgia was assigned a nurse, a slave named Rose. There are certain children who seem to have been transplanted from heaven, and Georgia was one of them. From the time she could toddle she was adored by her father's slaves, first of all by her "mammy." She was an only child and heir to one of the finest estates in the Old Dominion.

When Georgia became of a marriageable age she had many suitors, from among whom she chose Edgar Bedell, a young attorney. Bedell's ancestors had lived in the north from the time they had landed in America in 1630. After being graduated at college he had gone south to tutor the sons of a wealthy planter, meanwhile studying law at the University of Virginia. Colonel St. Leger made it a condition of his marriage with Georgia that he should remain in the south.

In a year a child was born to them. It lived only two days, but the brief stay of the little stranger in its passage from the known to the unknown made a great change for the young couple—that is, a great change occurred at that time, for before the mother appeared again to the world the father had left Virginia for his former home in the north, never to return. No one outside the manor house saw Mrs. Bedell for many months after her confinement, and when she resumed her position as a well woman she neither visited nor received any except the slaves on the plantation. Among these she went as before, but with a blighted look on her face. No cause was given for the change in her or the departure and continued absence of her husband. Whether her father and mother were cognizant of it no one knew, but it was evident that the blight, whatever it was, had fallen on them as well as on the young couple.

Ten years passed, and a new generation was growing up. Those hearing of the Bedell case, as it was called, naturally assumed that something to the discredit of one or the other had occasioned the separation of the wedded pair. But if such were the case nothing that gave color to this suspicion ever leaked out. Besides, those who had known Mrs. Bedell as Georgia St. Leger would not admit that anything discreditable could ever be attributed to her, and, as for her husband, a planter returning from the north reported him as a prominent and much esteemed member of the bar of New York.

Bedell had spoken in the highest terms of his wife, but did not even refer to the cause that had separated them. Mrs. Bedell never mentioned her husband, but did not give out the slightest hint that she had any cause to be dissatisfied with him.

Colonel St. Leger died and was soon followed by his wife, leaving Mrs. Bedell a large estate. She left its management to an overseer who had long enjoyed her father's confidence. This was noted by many who were hungry for her secret, they having been curious after her father's death to know if Bedell would not return and manage the estate for her.

Mrs. Bedell died at the opening of the civil war. Her husband was present at her funeral. Many hoped that he would at last drop some hint as to the cause of his having left his wife, but he spoke never a word and as soon as the burial had taken place left for his home. He was followed the next day by a letter from an attorney stating that his wife had left him her entire estate.

Bedell never took possession of the property till four or five years later, when it was nearly worthless. He became a prominent Federal officer in the civil war and on one occasion encamped his troops on his own plantation. When he did take his inheritance he cut it up into small homes for those former slaves who remained upon it, giving each negro a title to his land. Bedell died ten years after the close of the war.

It seemed that with the death of the last person interested in the curious affair the secret would be buried forever. The very reverse of this occurred. Martha, Mrs. Bedell's "mammy," knew all and had been enjoined by her mistress to make it known after the death of all concerned should she live so long. Martha gave the explanation immediately after Bedell's death.

When the child of Mr. and Mrs. Bedell was born Rose was astonished to note certain marks upon it indicating that there was a trace in it of negro blood. She had endeavored to conceal these marks from the mother, but failed. Mrs. Bedell discovered them, and the effect upon her may be readily understood. The ancestry of the child's father was above reproach, but far back in the St. Leger family was a tradition that was made a certainty in the birth of this little innocent. Bedell had been willing and anxious to remain with his wife, but the effect upon her, taught by environment as well as by heredity to consider the black blood in her veins a taint, was far too serious to permit the sacrifice. She insisted on his never seeing her again, offering to assist him in securing a divorce, an offer he declined to accept.

Young Men Wanted

Government Pays Railway Mail Clerks $800 To $1,400 A Year

Free Scholarships Are Offered

Uncle Sam holds spring examinations for railway mail clerks in this vicinity. The job is for life; hours are short, salary twice monthly and vacation. To any young man this is the opportunity of a life-time.

Thousands of appointments are to be made. Common school education is all you need; city and country people have equal chance. Start to prepare now—free information. Free scholarships this month. Write immediately to Central Schools, Dept. 46, Rochester, N. Y.

He Thought.

In South Carolina there was a man who hired a lawyer to conduct a case in court. As the lawyer was not talking exactly to suit him, he got up and made a few remarks himself. The judge, of course, made him take his seat for breach. He got up again, and the judge made him take his seat again. A third and fourth time this happened, and finally the old farmer got up and said, "Well, judge, if you won't let me talk, won't you let me think?" "Why, certainly," replied the judge. "Well, judge," he said, "I think you and all these lawyers are a set of d—d rascals!"

"WOULDN'T YOU LET ME THINK?"

Sold His Farm

Minnesota Man Makes Sale Without Aid of Real Estate Agent and Did Not Pay One Cent Commission.

Mr. H. St. John of Cass County, Minn., says: "I sold my farm to a man in Iowa at my own price, and what is more to the point, I didn't have to pay a cent commission to anyone."

"I had given up all hope of ever selling when I happened across the advertisement of Leonard Darbyshire, Inc., of Rochester, N. Y., and this concern, by a new system of bringing buyer and seller together, sold my farm."

Mr. St. John's success in selling his farm was due to reading a booklet issued by Leonard Darbyshire, Inc., of Rochester, N. Y. This booklet tells of a new and successful method of finding buyers for farms and real estate, business properties and patents. The Corporation issuing this book are not real estate agents and do not accept a penny in commission on sales made by their assistance. Their plan of cutting out the real estate agents has met with remarkable success, and owners throughout the country are availing themselves of this opportunity to sell quickly places which for a long time remained in the hands of real estate agents, who failed to sell, for the reason that the commission which the agent had placed upon the property had killed the sale.

It is said that Mr. Leonard Darbyshire, the president of the concern, is doing more to assist property owners to sell than all the real estate agents in America combined, and anyone wishing to dispose of anything anywhere at any price, would do well to write to Leonard Darbyshire, President, Leonard Darbyshire, Inc., giving a brief description of the property for sale, and asking him to send a free copy of his booklet explaining his new method of selling.

H. B. BENDER, Funeral Director

PROMPT SERVICE. EITHER DAY OR NIGHT Gettysburg, Pa.

Phone (Residence) 1902 Arterial (City) 972 Embalming Nos. 1 Store 972 Cavity

PUBLIC SALE

On Saturday December 4

There will be sold at 117 North Washington street 27 yards Brussels carpet, two stoves, chairs, cherry table and many other articles of furniture. Everything as good as new. Sale to commence at 1:00 o'clock p. m.

Manicuring

Having taken instructions under a specialist I am in position to follow my trade. Hours from 1 to 4 p. m. daily. Price 25 cents. Public patronage solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed. Will call at your home if desired.

BERTHA J. STANTON, 137 S. Washington St. Gettysburg, Pa.

Just arrived 40 head, well bred Durham sters. Weight 600 pounds. For sale by C. H. Walter, Fairfield.

Eat Zeigler's Bread.

XMAS NOTICE

Let us remind you Christmas is not far off.

Photographs for the holidays will be much in demand. Avoid the rush and arrange for an early call.

We make miniature, pastel, water colors and enlargements from any picture.

J. I. MUMPER, Photographer
41 Baltimore street, Gettysburg

AN INVITATION

for everybody to

COME OFTEN and

STAY LONG

See the Largest and Finest Assortment of

CHRISTMAS GOODS

ever shown in any local store

PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE

25 Baltimore street

You Are Invited to inspect the very carefully selected line of gifts now on display at

"Huber's Drug Store

Baltimore St., Gettysburg

Music Hath Charms

Buy your WIFE, DAUGHTER or FRIEND a PIANO for a Christmas gift. Something that will last a lifetime. We have a fine line of the Leading Makes of Pianos that we will sell at Special Prices and Terms for Xmas, give us a call.

We are Headquarters for SINGER and WHEELER & WILSON

Sewing Machines which will make a useful Xmas gift. Prices and terms right, we sell as low as 50 cents per week if desired.

Call to see our line before buying elsewhere.

Spangler's Music House

48 York Street

Gettysburg, Pa

Western Maryland R.R.

(B. F. Bush, Receiver)

Special Excursion

to Martinsburg, West Virginia

Sunday, December 5th, 1909, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus

10 Hours at Martinsburg

Grand Reception to Visiting Knights and Ladies, Automobile Rides, Sight-Seeing, etc. A Delightful Pleasure Trip

Fast Train will Run as Follows:

Leave	A. M.	Round Trip Fare
York	7.20	$1.90
Spring Grove	7.50	1.60
Hanover	8.05	1.60
New Oxford	8.20	1.60
Gettysburg	8.35	1.60

Arrive at Martinsburg 11.05 A. M.

Returning, leave Martinsburg 9.05 P. M.

A. Robertson,

F. M. Howell,

Vice-Pres't and Gen'l Manager.

General Passenger Agent.

WOODBURY'S HAIR TONIC (The Prophylactic and Beautifier)

Prevents dandruff; stops falling hair, and instantly relieves itching scalp. It restores the lustre to the hair, increases its vitality and makes it beautiful and abundant.
Every bottle backed by unlimited experience.

Report of the condition of the Biglerville National Bank

at Biglerville, in the State of Pennsylvania, at the close of business, Nov. 16, 1909.

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts	$165,523 14
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured	942 66
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	25,000 00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds	700 00
Banking-house, furniture and fixtures	3,654 46
Due from National Bank (not reserve agents)	760 42
Due from approved reserve agents	11,872 84
Notes of other National Banks	11,872 84
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents	258 47
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	$9,800 00
Legal-tender notes	1,765 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)	1,250 00
Total	$221,556 90

LIABILITIES
Capital stock paid in	$50,000 00
Surplus fund	16,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	758 02
National Bank notes outstanding	25,000 00
Individual deposits subject to check	39,328 13
Time certificates of deposit	90,367 38
Cashier's checks outstanding	103 45
Total	$221,556 90

State of Pennsylvania, County of Adams, S.S.
I, JNO. W. BIGHAM, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JNO. W. BIGHAM, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of November, 1909.

CHAS. W. STOCK, N. P.
Correct—Attest:

C. L. LONGSDORF,
G. W. KOSER,
F. K. HEIDES,
Directors.

Report of the condition of the Bendersville National Bank

OF BENDERSVILLE, in the State of PENNA at the close of business, Nov. 16, 1909.

RESOURCES
Loans and discounts	$61,528 79
Over Drafts Secured and Unsecured	39 49
Bonds to secure circulation	6,300 00
Premiums on U. S. Bonds	257 91
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures	575 00
Due from private banks	696 88
Due from approved reserve agents	5,210 91
Notes of other National Banks	245 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents	101 40
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	$,321 35
Legal-tender notes	975 00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (ent of circulation)	4,296 35
Total	$79,766 78

LIABILITIES
Capital stock p. in	25,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	2,329 66
National Bank notes outstanding	6,300 00
Individual deposits subject to check	17,155 16
Time certificates of deposit	28,971 96
Cashier's checks outstanding	10 00
Total	$79,766 78

State of Pennsylvania, ss:
County of Adams

I, I. C. BUCHER, Cashier of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

I. C. BUCHER, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of Nov. 1909.

D. P. DELAP, J. P.
Correct—Attest:

WAYBRIGHT RICE
W. L. SNYDER
FRANK GARRISON.

RADIANT HAIR

New York Society Woman's Hair Matched Only by Parisians

While much attention is given to choicest gowns by New York society women, the turbulent fad just now is the care of the hair.

For many years the clever women of Paris have been famed for the magnificent beauty of their hair.

"Glorious hair", a Virginian calls it; "so radiant and luxuriant that it not only attracts but fascinates, and compels unstinted admiration".

But now that the elite of New York, ever anxious to improve their beauty, have learned that Parisian Sage, a remarkable and almost marvelous hair nourisher and beautifier, is almost entirely responsible for the charming hair of the ladies of France, the demand for it has become enormous.

Parisian Sage is now sold all over America, and in Gettysburg by People's Drug Store who is glad to guarantee it to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back. Large bottle 50 cents.

Calves Wanted

Will pay highest cash price
Address A. F. Roudebush, Aspers, Pa.

A CHRISTMAS EVE DINNER.

By GRACE ETHEL WEEKS.
(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

It was hard for Mr. and Mrs. Whitbeck to separate, especially hard, because they had two lovely children, a boy and a girl, aged eight and six. They agreed to leave the legal steps in the hands of Tom Forrest, a lawyer, who was a friend of both. Having heard the story of each, he recommended that the husband leave his wife for awhile and she could then obtain a divorce on the ground of desertion.

After an interval of six months, on the 23d of December the attorney notified his clients that their divorcement was about to come to a head and that owing to a division of property that had been agreed upon a meeting was necessary. He summoned them to meet at the home they had occupied the next evening at 5 o'clock.

The couple arrived within a few minutes of each other. They were met at the door and ushered into the library by the lawyer. It was a cheerless day—clouds, chill and snow—but a bright wood fire burned on the hearth. For this forethought and provision the Whitbecks mutely commended their friend the attorney. Mr. Forrest said to them:

"This is probably your last meeting as husband and wife."

He then read an agreement he had drawn up. Then he began to get the documents together for signature. He looked for one he did not find.

"That's bad," he said. "One of the most important papers of the lot I have left at my office. I fear I shall have to ask you to wait till I go and get it."

He went out, leaving the couple together. Neither spoke for some time. Whitbeck went to the window and looked on the dreary sight without. His wife peered at the fire.

"The house looks very comfortable and very natural," said the husband, turning.

"It does," was the laconic reply.

"Far preferable to a bachelor's room in bachelors' apartments."

"Or one in a hotel."

There was a pause.

"I suppose this sad ending to happy days is largely my fault?" said Whitbeck.

"I dare say I had something to do with it," replied the wife.

Another pause.

"Rather melancholy," the husband said again, "that this is the last view we shall take, at least together, of our once happy home."

"Very melancholy."

Nothing more was said for ten minutes. Then the wife remarked that Tom was gone a long while and the fire needed more wood. Whitbeck said that some one must be in charge and he would ring. He touched the electric button, and who should respond but the maid they had left there six months before.

"Why, Nancy?" exclaimed husband and wife together.

"I'm glad to see you both back," said the girl, smiling. "What is it, ma'am?"

"W-w-why," she stammered, "it's wood."

The girl went out and brought wood. "I suppose you'll have dinner the same time as before?" she said.

"Dinner?"

"Yes'm. The table's laid now in the dining room."

The husband and wife looked at each other.

"The same hour, Nancy," said Whitbeck—half past 6. And the maid departed.

"This is Tom's doing," said Mr. Whitbeck.

"I wonder what it all means," remarked Mrs. Whitbeck.

"It means, sweetheart," replied her husband, putting his arms about her, "that we've been a pair of nincompoes and Tom has known it and saved us."

At that moment Nancy opened the door, to find Mr. and Mrs. Whitbeck, who had come to sign papers for a perpetual separation, in each other's arms.

"Dinner's ready," she said, looking at the ceiling.

The table was set for four. On it was a bottle of champagne with Tom Forrest's card dangling to it. On the card was written:

Divorce be hanged! You needed a dose of loneliness, and I have given it to you. I have never entered a plea for divorce, and never intended to do so.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the wife.

"How I wish I had brought the children!"

"Can't we send for them?"

The door opened, and there was Tom Forrest, while a boy and a girl bounded into the room, jumped to their father's neck and clung there.

"I knew you'd want them far more than that missing paper," said Forrest, "so I jumped into a cab and went for them."

"Oh, papa," cried the boy, "I felt you'd come home for Christmas!"

"Mamma said only yesterday," the girl added, "that she wished papa could be with us today and tomorrow. She was crying too."

"Thank heaven, it's not too late!" said the father, taking out his watch.

"It is only half past 6. We have the whole evening after the children go to bed for—"

The mother knew well enough that he meant they had time for buying a Christmas outfit.

"Dine with us, Tom," said Whitbeck.

"Not I. Wouldn't intrude for the world."

FARM ORCHARD AND GARDEN

BY FETRIGG

REGISTER, ROCKFORD, ILL.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED

[This matter must not be reprinted without special permission.]

A DANGEROUS DOCTRINE.

It seems that the specialists in the agricultural department at Washington have lately conceived the notion that if the weeds are kept down in a field of corn by hoeing once a week the yield will be as much or more than if tended in the usual way with cultivator. A farmer not far from where the writer lives was asked to give this idea a test, and his report, made a short time ago, is in substance as follows: Six rows twelve rods long were planted in the open field, and during the growing season the only care given the plot was to cut off the weeds once a week with a hoe, while the corn on either side was given the customary treatment with drag and corn plow and also kept clean with hoe. At husing time the four middle rows in the uncultivated plot yielded 301 pounds of corn, while four rows of equal length beside it, cultivated as stated, yielded 261 pounds of corn. According to these figures, the uncultivated corn yielded at the rate of sixty bushels to the acre, while the other yielded but fifty-two bushels. It would seem in view of the enormous loss that is sustained by corn growers of the country annually through lack of proper cultivation of their fields that the above is a mighty risky doctrine for the department at Washington to promulgate. In the first place, so many of the conditions attending the experiment are unknown—namely, the character of the soil, which for the proper circulation of the air and moisture might need little or much cultivation, whether the cultivation given was of the proper kind, how thick the weeds were and how much cultivating the stirring of the soil with a hoe proved to be—that the value of the experiment in proving the idea entertained is largely vitiated. More than all this is the unavoidable fact that even if this hoeing method were preferable the labor situation is such as to make this way of handling any but very limited areas an absolute impossibility. Better would the department devote its energies to proving, as has repeatedly been done, that corn that is cultivated six and seven times during the growing season will yield from eight to twenty bushels more per acre than corn that is cultivated but twice. This is the kind of gospel that needs preaching to the indifferent and careless farmer, who if he were to adopt the hoe method could not be counted on to work the handle as vigorously as would be necessary to give ideal conditions and desired results.

A DEMAND FOR EXPERTS.

One of the boss grafters in a well known western fruit valley gets $5 per day for the time he puts in. This is cited merely to call attention to the fact that any man who will take the pains to equip himself as a practical horticulturist and fruit ranch superintendent can count on getting a generous salary, for there is a lot of money being invested in western orchards, and it is not likely that the wealthy owners will let a matter of $40 or $50 a month stand in the way of their getting the right kind of men to look after their properties. Land that will yield an annual net return of from $300 to $1,500 per acre is going to be well tended both as regards soil and trees, and he is a level headed fellow who fits himself to do this kind of work as it ought to be done.

MORE SUCKERS CAUGHT.

Partners living near St. Paul who have the past few months shipped eggs, poultry and other stuff to one commission firm under the inducement of high prices offered find themselves bunked, the mushroom commission man back of the swindle having made off with about $3,000 of their money and leaving no tracks behind. He hired a store for a month, bought a typewriter and desk on the installment plan and expended enough energy to write and direct a batch of circular letters, resell the stuff shipped him and cash the drafts paid him. This type of swindle is being perpetrated well nigh every month in the year by grafters in large cities who are able to work their game because gullible victims bite at their bait in the shape of an offer of unusually high produce prices.

SMALL TOWN MARKET DAYS.

There are many small towns over the country which have been holding successful market days of late. These have had a social as well as a commercial aspect. People bring stuff of all descriptions which they want to get rid off to town, while just as many are on hand who want some of the articles which are offered for sale. Merchants profit by increase in sales through special price offers. Quite often a sports and amusement program is arranged, which entertains the crowd during the day and ministers to their fun loving instincts. The market day idea is spreading, and it is well that it is so.

G. W. WEAVER & SON

....The Leaders....

GETTYSBURG, PA.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

An Ensemble of

55,000 Dollars Worth

At Wholesale

DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS
READY-TO-WEAR GOODS & CARPETS

Every Article a Useful Christmas Present for some one

A veritable Christmas Gift store from now on until hristmas.

A Special Display of Fancy Articles

Freater than ever before shown by us.

Come to see us early. Do not put off buying until the last moment. You know all the choicest things go out first, and we do not want you to be disappointed—besides we want you to see our Christmas showing at its very best.

We will keep your purchase for you until wanted, if you wish. And if you cannot come to see us yourself, write to us; tell us what you want, and we will put forth our best effort to please you—and we know we will succeed because we cannot help it, out of this great stock of ours.

FREE! Absolutely FREE!

Beautiful Mahogany Upright Piano
Lady's Beautiful Gold Watch
Gentleman's Fine Gold Watch

To the person sending us the neatest correct solution to this problem we will give ABSOLUTELY FREE a

Beautiful Mahogany Upright Piano

To the two persons sending us the two next neatest correct solutions we will give each—Absolutely Free—their choice of a

Lady's or Gentleman's Beautiful Gold Watch

Jewel Movement--20 Year Cases

For the next Three Best Solutions—Three bond certificates valued at $100 to be applied on the purchase of a new piano.

For the Five Next—Five $80 certificates, to apply as above.

For the Next Ten—Each a $75 bond certificate, to apply as above.

Among all others sending us correct solutions will be distributed, equally, Song Books containing 50 Old Favorite Songs, with words and music, and Cash Value Purchasing.

Premiums of $50.00 (or more) each amounting in all to $10,000 (or more)

DIRECTIONS:

Take any of the numbers, from 1 to 17, and place them in the nine squares on this or a separate sheet of paper, in such a way that the horizontal lines, and the vertical columns, and the diagonal lines will each make 34. A number cannot be used more than once. All answers must be in our office not later than December 8th, 1909.

In case of ties, premiums of equal value will be given to each. Contest is open to all, regardless of age or sex.

	11

Magic 33 Problem Can You Solve It?

WINNERS WILL BE NOTIFIED
BY MAIL

Send your solution and name and address plainly written (be sure to write plainly) to

TROUP BROS.,

Largest Piano and Organ House in Central Pennsylvania
WAREROOMS, 208 WEST MARKET ST., YORK, PA.

Use The Times, the Best Advertising Medium

Home Course In Live Stock Farming

XL.—Raising Draft Horses.

By C. V. GREGORY,
Author of "Home Course In Modern Agriculture," "Making Money on the Farm," Etc.

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association

RAISING draft horses is one of the most profitable branches of live stock farming. It can be carried on to good advantage in connection with general farming, since the brood mares can be used for field work. Five or six brood mares will easily do all the work on a quarter section. In this way they will pay for their feed and care, leaving the colts for profit.

In selecting mares from which to raise draft colts size is an important consideration. A horse has to weigh at least 1,600 pounds to come in the draft class. Every pound that he weighs over that will add at least 25 cents to his value.

Judging Draft Horses.
After size the next point to consider is appearance. A draft mare should be wide, deep and massive. She should be fairly low set, but not so short legged that she cannot move well. She should be symmetrical—that is, all parts in proper relation to each other.

Together with these other points should come draft conformation. The head should be of fair size, clean cut, with the face slightly dished and the eyes large, bright and expressive. A small "pony" head is very undesirable. A draft horse with too much neck is seldom found, though over-short necks are rather common. The neck should be full as well as long. The neck of a mare should not show any tendency to the crest that marks the stallion. Masculine characters in a mare or feminine characters in a stallion indicate that they will not make reliable or prepotent breeding animals.

The shoulder should be neither too straight nor too sloping. A straight shoulder interferes with action and is usually associated with a stubby pastern and generally with a long back as well. In light horses the more sloping the shoulder the better, since this conformation is favorable to long or high action. In draft horses too sloping a shoulder brings the point of draft too high and may even cause the collar to slip up and choke the animal. The face of the shoulder should be broad to give a good bearing surface for the collar. The top of the shoulder should not be open or coarse and should blend well into the back.

The back of the draft horse should be as short as possible from the top of the shoulders to the hips. A short coupled, compact horse can handle himself better than one with a long, loose coupled and often swayed back. The ribs should be well sprung, long and close together. The space between the last rib and the pelvic bone should not be over three or four inches. The loin should be wide and heavily muscled. The region from the hips back, called the croup, should be broad, long and not too sloping. It is the hind quarters that furnish the propelling power, and size and massiveness here are all important points. The thighs should be heavily muscled both inside and out and should be broad when viewed from the side. The muscling on the inside of the thighs should extend well down.

Next in importance is constitution. This is indicated by a deep, wide chest, a full fore flank, large nostrils and a deep barrel. A horse that is tucked up in the hind flank tires easily and cannot be kept up in flesh when at work. This is an especially bad fault in brood mares.

Quality is very important, as it indicates endurance or staying power. A small horse of good quality will do more work than a coarse, loosely put together animal 500 pounds heavier. Quality is indicated by a fairly thin, pliable skin; fine, glossy hair; cleanliness of head and clean legs. The tendons at the back of the legs should stand out clearly, giving the canon a flat appearance. There should be as little meatiness as possible at the hock and between the tendons and the canon bone. The hoof should be of dense, hard horn, and in hairy legged breeds the feather should be fine and silky.

There is an old saying, "No foot, no horse." The feet and legs are very important, since they must do the propelling and receive all the hard knocks of heavy service. The forearm and gaskin should be heavily muscled. The muscles in these regions cannot be easily covered with fat, so their size is an indication of the animal's muscling throughout. The forearm and gaskin he can use more roughage and less grain. Never feed horses dusty hay or straw, as it will ruin their wind.

Horses should have plenty of water. They will stand the work a great deal better in warm weather if they are given water in the middle of the forenoon and afternoon. If they are to be kept at work they may be given all the water they want, but care should be taken not to fill a warm horse up with cold water and then let him stand and cool off rapidly.

It is an excellent plan to have a yard near the barn into which the horses can be turned after they have had their supper. They can then drink and, if the yard is large enough, find a little grass. They will feel a great deal better in the morning than if kept in the barn all night.

Care at Foaling Time.
The mare may be safely worked up to within ten days of foaling. In fact, light work is better for her than idleness would be. A mare heavy in foal should not be required to back, however, nor to exert herself too much in pulling heavy loads. Working in the mud is also bad for her and if kept up for any length of time is likely to cause abortion.

The surest indication of the approach of foaling time is the appearance of wax on the teats, which occurs about three days before parturition. At this time the feed should be reduced in amount and a warm bran mash given at night. The addition of a little oilmeal will clean out the intestines and makes foaling easy. For several days previous to foaling the mare should be kept in a box stall, so that she may become accustomed to the new location. Some one should be at hand when the colt is born to give assistance if necessary. Do not bother the mare unless it is absolutely necessary, however.

As soon as the colt is born the navel cord should be tied tightly, about two inches from the body, with a string which has been soaked in some disinfecting solution. The cord should be cut just below the point where it is tied and the remaining portion wet with some of the disinfecting solution. The udder of the mare should also be washed with the same solution. Attention to these details will do much to prevent the attack of scours and joint ill which so often proves fatal to young colts.

Do not be in too big a hurry to get the mare on feed after foaling. A little laxative feed for the first day or two after foaling is all she needs. In pasture season the mare and colt may be turned out on grass for a few days, gradually increasing the grain ration at the same time. In case work is pressing the mare may be put to work in two or three days after foaling, but two precautions must be strictly adhered to—first, do not allow the colt to follow the mare in the field, exhausting his puny strength in fighting flies and following his mother up and down the rough furrows; second, do not allow the colt to suck while the mare is very warm. He will be hungry when his mother comes from the field and anxious to satisfy his appetite at once, but a little wholesome restraint at this time will teach him a lesson that he must learn some time—that his master's will is superior to his own.

Care of the Colt.
In two or three weeks the colt will begin to nibble at the hay in his mother's manger, and if given a feed box of his own out of reach of the other horses he will soon learn to eat oats. He can be turned out in the pasture with his mother when she is not busy, and after awhile, if the pasture is fenced with something besides barbed wire, he may be turned out with the other colts without his mother. With all the grass and oats he can eat, in addition to his mother's milk, his growth will be rapid. A colt that learns to eat well before weaning time will suffer little check in growth at that time.

The first winter is a perilous time for the colt. Too often he is given the run of the farm, with little roughage other than cornstalks and straw and only a very small allowance of grain or none at all. Many farmers hold up their hands in horror at the thought of giving a colt grain every day from the time he is big enough to eat until he is marketed. These same farmers, however, think nothing of feeding their calves liberally for two or three years and then selling them for one-third what the colt will bring at the same age. Size and development count for more in a horse than in a steer, and the cost of feed is small compared with the results obtained from liberal feeding. Some farmers think that a colt will get to be just so big anyway and that liberal feeding only hastens the process a little. This is a mistake. A colt that is stunted when he is young will never attain the size that he would if properly fed. Additional weight in a draft horse is worth at least 25 cents a pound, and it is a mistake not to develop the colt to the limit.

Every human being so blessed should be thankful for the physical strength wherewith to earn his daily bread and an appetite and stomach which will enable him to enjoy and digest it properly. These are common blessings, yet a good many people are denied them.

GETTYSBURG RURAL NOTES

Much Visiting on the Rural Routes Starting from Gettysburg. What those Living along the Rural Routes are Doing.

Carrier Tate wishes to thank the following for butchering: Mrs. H. T. Shryock, Mrs. Emanuel Weikert. Mrs. O. B. Sharreits, of route 13, and Mrs. Emory Fox, of route 2, attended Institute on Wednesday.

Miss Carrie Cromer and Miss Louetta Shandbrook, of route 13, were recent Gettysburg visitors.

Charles Newman and wife of route 1, spent Sunday at the home of Wellington Brown on route 13.

Miss Cleo Hosler, of McKnightstown, is visiting Miss Mary Black at her home on route 2.

S. S. Cromer, of route 13, U. H. Cromer, of Fairfield, and H. S. Cromer, of route 2, have finished planting 500 apple trees in their newly purchased farm at Bendersville.

Oliver Mehling, of route 13, took a load of hogs to Hanover.

William E. Rose and Russell Boyd, of route 2, are hauling wood.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. C. Roy Plank, of route 13 a son.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Black and daughter, of route 2, Wherley Rudisill, Mrs. A. S. Mills, and daughter, May Belle, of route 13, and Rev. P. T. Stocklager, wife and children were attending institute in Gettysburg this week.

Charles W. Ferner, Mervin Ferner and Russell Boyd, of route 2, attended Odd Fellows' initiation at Thurmont, Md., on Tuesday night.

Miss Ida Weikert while visiting her aunt, Mrs. Edward Bair, of route 3, on Thanksgiving Day, took her rifle and went out for a little sport. In a little less than a half hour she came back with a rabbit.

THE GRANGE
Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chatham, N. Y.
Press Correspondent New York State
Grange

NOT AFRAID OF SENATORS.

State Master Stetson of Maine on Grange Work.

Some little time ago I was called to Portland to meet Senator Hale. He said: "You know the tariff is to be revised, and I want you to get a list of those things that farmers feel the need of the revision in. I agree with you that the revision of the tariff is a business proposition, and I want the northeastern part of our country which lies adjacent to a foreign one to be represented in the schedule." I have tried to get the granges to find out the conditions and report to their senators, and, by the way, I don't want any of you to feel about senators as I used to. I thought they were set upon a pedestal and did not care about the common people, but my experience has been of great men that the nearer you get to them the smaller they become. Abraham Lincoln said, you know, "that God must have loved the common people, for he made so many of them."

Now, I say to you there are great questions before us. One is the enactment of a parcels post law. Take it up in your meetings, read up on it, for I believe this is second only to the rural free delivery, which has been the greatest thing for the farmer and his wife that ever came to our country. The other is postal savings banks.

The grange of the future stands for good roads, good schools, better citizenship. I believe it will teach us to love our grange homes, love our own homes, where the strife of the world is shut out and the sweet things of life that we love are shut in. The grange of the future will teach us to do as well as we know, and we should dedicate our lives and impress on our minds that the grange we love, which cost so much in the past, means so much in the present and counts for so much in the future, must be kept together by you and me, working together for the best interests of the organization.

It is said that the seven founders of our Order pondered seven days to see whether the sisters should be admitted or not, and the reason against it was that no woman could keep a secret. Now, in my brief experience as state master I have talked some with the men, in stores, in blacksmith shops and other places, and I will say that as far as I have seen and am able to judge I'd rather trust a secret with the sisters than with the brothers. If it were not for the conscientious work of the sisters the Order would not stand where it does today. It is the one place where a man can take his family and place them among influences that tend for the betterment of humanity.—C. S. Stetson.

Every human being so blessed should be thankful for the physical strength wherewith to earn his daily bread and an appetite and stomach which will enable him to enjoy and digest it properly. These are common blessings, yet a good many people are denied them.

LETTERS FROM COUNTY TOWNS

Correspondents send in Many Items of Interesting News from Their Respective Towns. Personals and Many Brief Items.

LATIMORE

Latimore, Dec. 3.—Frank Coulson, wife and daughter, of Carlisle, were circulating among friends in this place a few days last week.

Mrs. C. M. Lerew and daughter, Esther, are spending the week in Harrisburg.

W. H. Brough and wife, of Harrisburg, spent a few days recently with the former's parents Levi Brough and wife of this place.

Miss Sadie Brough, of New Oxford, spent a few days last week with her parents, Peter Brough and wife.

Misses Velma Bushey and Lulu Gardner were recent visitors at the home of John Arnold and wife of Uniontown.

Miss Alvie Day is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Robert Strayer, of near York Springs.

Mrs. Nettie Rhodes, of Harrisburg, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, William Trostle and wife, of this place.

Mrs. Maggie Lerew and son, Parker, attended the funeral of Mrs. George Slothour at Brandtsville on last Monday.

STARNERS

Starners, Dec. 3.—Eli Miller fell over dead Sunday morning at his home about three miles on the other side of Holly. He was buried Tuesday morning at Victory church.

Charles Starners killed two nice hogs Monday. Henry Starners was head butcher. Solomon Starners butchered on Tuesday and Harry Starners on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Detrick visited Mrs. Detrick's sister, Mrs. Priscilla Starners, on Sunday.

Master Edward and Nelson Black visited Mr. and Mrs. Edward Starners on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Walter started house keeping Tuesday in his father's house and Mr. Walter is now living with Isaac Camp.

Charles Pfeiffer is seriously ill at this writing.

William Starners shot a deer last week. It ran into his yard fence. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hinkle a son.

A LAFAYETTE WOMAN HUNG

Marvelous Result of a Woman's Plea.

An old lady called on the Root Juice scientist over at Lafayette, Ind., and said: "I actually hung to the neck of my husband and pleaded with him to try Root Juice. So much was being said about the remarkable cures the remedy has made that I felt it might do him some good. He had suffered for years with his stomach and kidneys and severe headaches. Every change of the weather his back pained him very much and of late years the lightest food would ferment in his stomach and bowels and the fermentation of gas would cause him to bloat so that he could not button his vest. He tried so many medicines that he lost heart, but I finally persuaded him to take Root Juice. He has used but a little over two bottles and I never saw such a change in a man in my life. He told me this morning that he would not take the best farm in the state for what the wonderful medicine has done for him." A number of local people have reported remarkable cures resulting from a short use of the great health-promoting discovery. It gives a good appetite, creates good digestion and seems to heal and tone every organ in the body. Root Juice is $1 a bottle, or three bottles for $2.50, at People's Drug Store.

In making preparation for the winter food supply for the poultry it is well to keep in mind that both clover and alfalfa are excellent rations in the supplying of needed protein. The hens will devour all leafy parts of the legumes as eagerly as they will wheat or corn.

Limberneck is an ailment which now and then appears in flocks of poultry and seems to be due to a diseased condition of the neck, induced by poisons contained in partly decayed meat. The cure is to remove diseased fowls from those that are well and the feeding of ground bone and meat scraps that are fresh and untainted.

Carrots, beets and turnips which it may be desired to carry through the winter should be packed in barrels or bins with clean sand or dry earth, enough filler being used to keep the roots separated a bit. The place where such crops are stored should be both cool and dry so as to retard as far as possible the tendency to decay or rot.

Look at this List

You can surely find something nice to give. The assortment is large and the price is very reasonable.

Men's Women's and Children's Shoes.
Clothing of all kinds for men and boys

Neckties	Sweaters	Underwear
Slippers	Silk Mufflers	Socks
Suspenders	Handkerchiefs	Gloves
Collars	Cuffs	Shirts
Caps	Rubber Boots	Umbrellas

And Many Other Articles Too Numerous To Mention

O. H. LESTZ, Centre Square & Carlisle St., Gettysburg, Pa.
Store open every evening.

Western Maryland RR

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SEPT. 26, 1909
Trains leave Gettysburg DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY, as follows:
5:24 a. m., for Baltimore, Hanover and York and all intermediate points.
7:48 a. m., for Fairfield, Penn. Mar. Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, H. S. O., Cumberland, Elkins and all points westward.
1 P. M., for New Oxford, Hanover, York and intermediate points.
3:42 p. m., for Baltimore, Hanover, York and all intermediate points.
5:45 p. m., for B. & H. Division Points to Hagerstown, also Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Shippensburg and Annapolis.
Sundays Only
Sunday trains arrive at Gettysburg at 10:35 a. m.
5:40 p. m., local train to York.
5:50 p. m., for New Oxford, Hanover and intermediate points, and also Baltimore.
A. R. B. S. M., F. M. Howell, V. P. & Gen. Mgr.

BEAUTY IN HEALTH

A Simple System that will Roll away the Marks of Years.

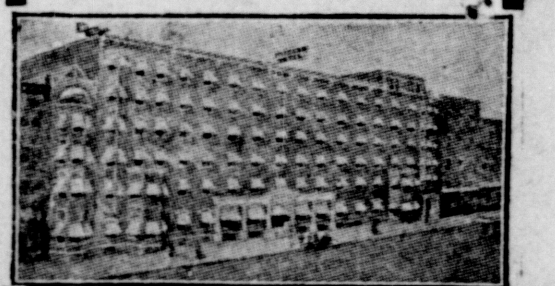

A healthy skin is a beautiful skin. Is your complexion a healthy one? If it is not, the remedy is simple. First, a healing, cleansing skin food. Second, true massage to wipe away the wrinkles and give new life to the skin texture and the blood circulation beneath it. Few women are successful at self-massage, and happily they need worry no longer on that score. The Harlan Beauty Cup will actually care for the face better in every way than is possible by expert hand massage when used in connection with Crown Cream. As many readers know, this face cream has many superior qualities, so that it can be used, if desired, without any massage. It is a perfect skin food, and when massage is needed, its marvelous action as a cleansing and healing agent is greatly enhanced by the Beauty Cup. There is no danger to the delicate texture of the skin, as is so often the case in amateur attempts at hand massage. Only a gentle vacuum action is produced, yet nothing else so quickly acts upon the wrinkles, and wipes them away from the face. Where Crown Cream and the Beauty Cup are used, wrinkles disappear, and never need return. Your dealer should have both articles. If he has not, send the price, 50c for a package of Crown Cream and 50c for a Beauty Cup, direct to the Harlan Mfg. Co., Toledo, O., and you will receive these splendid toilet necessities by return mail, prepaid.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that we the undersigned will not permit any hunting on our respective premises John F. Kuhn R. D. 2, Gettysburg, J. D. Brown, R. F. D. 4, Gettysburg, B. Deatrick, Hunterstown, A. J. Spangler, Bonneauville, A. P. Ginter, Bonneauville, Alex. Hoffman, Gettysburg, route 2, B. Cassatt, route 2, Gettysburg, Abraham Hershey, Gettysburg, R. D. 5, C. Gehhart, Bonneauville, C. H. Himes, R. D. 12, Gettysburg, Wm. F. Fleming, R. D. 12, Gettysburg, Mrs. J. E. Bair, g'd'n. Gbg. R. D. 6, Chas. G. Taughinbaugh, R. D. 5, Gbg., Geo. A. Herring, Orranna, R. D. 1, Wm. F. Cline Bendersville, Pa. Miss Sue M. Forney, Gettysburg, R. D. 3, The Misses Bream, R. D. 3, Biglerville. Names of people desiring to warn hunter from their land will be added to the above list, which will be carried throughout the entire HUNTING season, for fifty cents. Write or call at the Times Office.

WINDSOR HOTEL

W. T. BRUBAKER, Manager.
European, $1.00 per day and up
American, $2.50 per day and up

Midway between Broad Street Station and Reading Terminal on Filbert Street.
The only moderate priced hotel of reputation and consequence in PHILADELPHIA